Town and Farm In Wartime

DON'T TRAVEL UNNECESSARILY

To relieve crowded trains and buses, residents of Virginia are asked not to make unnecessary trips. ODT has defined trips by train or bus, for the following purposes as non-essential: (1) To other cities to visit friends; (2) Home for the weekend; (3) Sightseeing; (4) To the theatre, races, or other places of amusement; (5) Any social travel or travel for pleasure; (6) Travel merely for the sake of going somewhere.

VICTORY TAX COLLECTIONS

The Victory Tax, which to date has been withheld from wages and salaries, above exemptions, at the rate of 5 per cent, will be included in the 20 per cent withholding plan provided for in the current Tax Payment Act, on or after July 1. Total Victory Tax collections as of June 5 were $682,382.523.20.

STICKER FOR RATION-FREE SHOES

Virginia shoe dealers must put an official OPA sticker on shoes that are to be sold ration-free because of damage by fire, water, steam, or other accidental cause, the OPA has announced. The purpose of the sticker is to protect the customer against black markets in shoes.

TOOLS FOR FARMERS

Wrenches, pliers, screwdrivers and other mechanics hand service tools should be more generally available to Virginia farmers and home mechanics as a result of an amendment of Order E-6 by WPB. The amended order, which is designed to bring about a better distribution of these tools among consumers, sets aside from 20 to 25 per cent of the monthly production of specified tools for commercial distribution.

BARBED WIRE AVAILABLE

Approximately 20,000 tons of barbed wire with extra long barbs, made for military purposes, will be used to meet a shortage of barbed wire on farms, according to WPB. The action is part of the Office of Civilian Requirements' program to make needed supplies available to farmers.

USED CAR GAS RATION

Any Virginian purchasing a used car may qualify for a gasoline ration card to operate it, even though he is unable to get a tire inspection record from the previous owner. If he can satisfy the local board that (1) No tire inspection record ever was issued for the vehicle, or (2) The buyer had been unable to get the record from the previous owner after diligent attempt.

NEW WINGS FOR GLIDER PILOTS—Wings for a new group of Army Air Force birdmen—the glider pilots—have recently been authorized by the War Department. The insignia, pictured above, is modeled after the more familiar wings of the Army pilot, but bears a distinguishing "G" in the center. Shown here is Pvt. Beryl Black, Buffalo, N. Y., acknowledging congratulations of his mates upon completion of his first solo flight. Qualified men between the ages of 18 and 36 are being accepted for glider training, some winning commissions as second lieutenants, upon completion of the course, others rating as staff sergeants. All receive flying pay.

Infant Sanitarium Observes Fourth in Different Manner

Solicitation to Be Held Saturday, July Third—Babies Unalarmed by War Threats Crowd Sanitarium

The Infant Sanitarium, which has been in existence for fifty-five years, serving undernourished, unhealthy, indigent children, is in operation at full blast in spite of the war and threatened attacks along the Atlantic seaboard. In fact the institution is filled to capacity and there is a waiting list. These facts show the need of continuing of operation and more particularly now under the conditions existing in this area.

This institution has always been a charitable one and no charges are permissible or acceptable. It has been maintained through contributions made by the public and charitable supporting organizations.

One of the sources of income has been the proceeds from an annual sale of toy balloons on streets of Virginia Beach on the Fourth of July, but there will be no balloon sale this year. The babies are patriotic as well as grownups. They can't buy war bonds, but can sacrifice their balloons and their rubber parties to help keep the boys flying.

They cannot, however, sacrifice that much needed milk and other items needed to restore to them their strength and health. The need is just as great, if not greater, for contributions to carry on, even if there will be no color-

Withholding Tax Merely Advance Payment of Federal Income Tax

The new withholding tax, which became effective July 1, does not constitute an additional income tax but is merely advance payment of income tax. It also includes the Victory tax which has been in force since January 1. If the amount withheld at the end of the year is less than one's total income and victory tax for the year, one will pay the difference to the government. If it is more than one's income and victory tax, the government will refund the difference. The employer will do the bookkeeping, and transmit the collections to the government at stated intervals. The withholding tax allows credit for dependents which was not included in the victory tax and it will only slightly increase payments for the average wage-earner with children and in cases of numerous dependents it will actually decrease the payments. For instance a married man with two children earning $45 a week has been having deductions of $7.50 a week under Victory tax. Under withholding tax he will have deductions of $1.80. But a married man with four children, who has been having the $1.80 deduction on the $45 a week pay, will have no withholding tax deduction, but will have $1.80 a week. A single man earning $45 a week will have deductions of $6.60 a week for withholding tax instead of $1.80 as in the past; married men, $4.20 and married man with one child $3.00. The exemption tax allows $12.00 exemption for the individual; $12.00 each for man and wife, plus $5.00 each for dependent children. A married man with two children earning $45 a week would have $35 exemptions and would pay 20 per cent withholding tax on the remaining $9.00 or $1.80 a week. This would approximate the income tax due at the end of the year after deductions allowable.

SEIWELL GOES ON BOND STAFF IN WASHINGTON

Manager of Chamber of Commerce Given Leave of Absence for Duration

ON BEACH 8 YEARS

Miss Grace O. Jordan to Direct Activities

Don Seiwell, managing director of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce since its reorganization in the early spring of 1936, left this week for Washington to assume wartime duties with the national War Savings Staff of the U. S. Treasury Department in the press, radio and advertising section of that agency.

Prior to leaving Virginia Beach, he was granted a leave of absence by the Chamber's board of directors for the duration of the war, and it is expected that he will resume direction of the organization's promotion program upon the termination of the present world conflict. Mrs. Grace O. Jordan, who has been serving as information director at the Chamber of Commerce office, has been given a temporary appointment by the board of directors to supervise the wartime program in Mr. Seiwell's absence.

(Edited Beach News)

Before assuming his duties with the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Seiwell served for two and one-half years as managing editor of the Virginia Beach News. Prior to that time he was associated with the Virginia Conservation Commission as director of publicity, with the Yorktown Sesqui-centennial Association as director of advertising and publicity, and with the Richmond Times-Dispatch as news editor.

Currently he has been serving as chairman of the Virginia Commercial Organization Executives Association; as a member of the board of managers of the Southeastern Institute at Emory University in Atlanta and, locally as a member of the War Savings Committee, the Princess Anne County War Labor Board and as secretary of the Joint USO Advisory Board and the Virginia Beach Defense Service Committee.

He will be joined in Washington in the near future by Mrs. Seiwell and their two children: Anne and Toby. Residence will be established in Arlington Village, Virginia, for the duration of the war.

Lt. Nash Ready for Combat Unit

Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C.—Second Lieutenant Camillus A. Nash III, Bay Colony, Virginia Beach, Va., has graduated from the Quartermaster School at this Marine Base and has been awarded a certificate indicating his successful completion of the course of study involving a minimum of three months instruction. He is now available for assignment to duty with a combat unit for advanced training.

Injured Cyclist Improving

The condition of Herman H. Weaver, of Route 2, Lynnhaven, was reported as "good." Weaver suffered compound fractures of the right arm and leg when the motorcycle on which he and David Smucker were riding, collided with a parked station wagon near Glen Rock on the Virginia Beach Boulevard Tuesday evening. Young Smucker died as the result of injuries sustained in the accident.

X - RAY CLINIC

The Princess Anne County Tuberculosis Association will sponsor an X-Ray Clinic at the Virginia Beach school on July 6 and 7, from 9:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. This clinic will be conducted by the State and County Health Department. Mrs. Rufus Parks, president of the association, has issued the statement that those who are expected to do so but for those who need the services of the clinic but are unable to pay for them may

U. S. O. BOARD HELD MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

Discussion of Enlarging Bath House; Building Dance Floor

INDUCTEES PARTY 6th

Miss Pantone Elected New Secretary

At the June meeting of the Advisory Board of the U. S. O. club, held on Monday night, June 28, the principle problem was the increase in demand on the club brought about by the overwhelming influx of service men and their families to the community. The indoor dance hall is so very inadequate that the Board has under consideration the erection of an outdoor floor to be located at the South side of the building. This will, in a large measure take care of the large crowds who enjoy dancing even in summer heat.

The next problem under discussion was the enlargement of the bath houses. At present there are 300 rooms. Last Sunday there were over 400 applicants. The recommendation of the Board is to double the present number of bath houses. It was decided to put on a concerted drive to secure the listing of more rooms and apartments available for service men and their families. The demand far exceeds the present number of rooms which are listed at the U. S. O. club.

The plans for the plaque of names of service men from this community were reported progressing and the request is made that families of men in our armed forces fill in the blank found elsewhere in the News and mail to the U. S. O. club or drop at the office of the Virginia Beach News on 17th Street.

W. L. Crockett, chairman, presided over the meeting. Other members attending were Mrs. R. B. Taylor, vice chairman, Col. Rice, J. B. Clower and Mrs. David Penderg, Jr. Miss Margaret Pantone acted as secretary in the absence of Don Seiwell.

VARIETY SHOW

"Talent On Parade" the Camp Pendleton Variety Show, will be presented at the U. S. O. Club on Monday evening, July 5. Under the direction of PFC Morton Diamond, the show met with such success at the camp that it has been asked to "go on the road." One of the other camps in the vicinity was the first trip. ## Garland M. Caffee Promoted Word has been received from Hq. Basic Training Center No. 6, Army Air Forces Technical Training Command, St. Petersburg, Florida, that on June 21, 1943, Garland M. Caffee, of 5th Street, son of A. L. Caffee, was recently promoted in grade from Sergeant to Staff Sergeant at the Army Air Forces Basic Training Center in that city.

Lions Install New Officers

The Virginia Beach Lions Club installed its new officers for the coming year at a meeting on Tuesday, June 29th, at the Dunes Club. Outgoing President Joe Crosswhite presided over the meeting and presented Past District Governor, Ellis Loveless, who officially installed the officers.

W. W. Bill Johnson was installed as president of the club; J. P. Cronin as first vice-president; R. J. Barton, second vice-president; A. W. Craft, third vice-president; Albert C. Roper, secretary and treasurer; O. B. Bell, treasurer; Horace Simmons, lion tamer, and C. H. Nelms and Charles Fields, directors. The ladies were guests as well as a delegation of Lions from Portsmouth headed by The Rev. Bland, now a member of the Portsmouth club and the originator of the Virginia Beach Lions.

Office of Civilian Defense Gets National Recognition

Model First-Aid Stations Set Up Under the Direction of Mrs. Russell Simmons, R. N.

With a community co-operating 100 per cent and one thousand dollars for defense work in the hands of a capable executive, the work of equipping Virginia Beach and Princess Anne county with first-aid stations for emergency use, we are able to present, with much pride, the following report which was submitted to the National Committee of Civilian Defense.

On the night of August 31, 1942, Frank Shean, manager of the MacArthur ball room at Seaside Park very generously donated the use of the ball room and all proceeds from the evening's dancing to the Civilian Defense work, supplying an orchestra as well as outside local talent for the occasion. One thousand tickets, selling for $1.00 each, plus tax, were placed in the hands of Wardens, Motor Corps, local graduate nurses and ladies of Virginia Beach. Within the two weeks prior to the dance every ticket had been sold. Chief Hobeck of the city police force, who also heads the civilian defense, and Russell Hatchett, town treasurer, rendered invaluable service whenever called upon.

With the cash on hand the next step was the selection of first aid stations and the number needed for this community. This was done at a meeting of the local Red Cross. The casualty station on 19th Street to be manned by Maj. M. L. Todd, Dr. R. W. Woodhouse and Dr. W. L. Taylor, assisted by three graduate nurses, Mrs. H. G. Moore, Mrs. W. L. Taylor and Mrs. G. J. Crockett. The graduate staff at each station will be assisted by first-aiders, motor corps, staff assistants, canteen workers and home nursing students.

Number One First Aid Station, a gift from the Virginia Beach Legion Club, costing $165.00 will be under the supervision of Dr. R. R. State assisted by Mrs. Charles Barco and Mrs. Herbert Miller, both graduate nurses. This station is located at the Virginia Beach school.

Number Two First Aid Station, in the Presbyterian church, 36th Street, will be manned by Dr. Cora Z. Corpening, with three graduate nurses to assist. Mrs. R. G. Barr, head nurse, Miss Curry and Mrs. H. Findall assisting.

STATE GAS TAX 20 YEARS OLD

The twentieth anniversary of the Virginia gasoline tax fell on Sunday, June 27th, according to a statement released by E. A. Kynh, secretary of the Virginia Petroleum Industries Committee.

Since its inception the tax has realized over $236,784.37 according to Mr. Kynh and while present consumption is drastically curtailed, the investment made by Virginia motorists in a statewide road system to serve the needs of peace is now contributing toward the successful prosecution of the war. It also provides the nucleus of a greater system to come.

Although Oregon in 1919 first established the precedent of taxing gasoline to build roads, Virginia did not follow suit until the Special Session of 1923. The tax became effective sixty days after the adjournment of the Assembly, hence June 27th is recognized as the gasoline tax birthday in Virginia.

Back in 1919 there was no semblance of the highway system of today, the state for the most part being literally in the mud. The functions of the Highway Department were largely advisory although progress had been made in establishing a state system aided by motor vehicle registration fees and property taxes. The new system of financing soon resulted in the burden of roads being borne by those who used them and soon the state was given supervision over all roads with the result that other tax payers were relieved of the obligation.

The gasoline levy was increased to four and a half cents in 1926 and to five cents in 1928 where it has remained. In the meanwhile the state has followed the policy of gasoline tax revenue for roads. "Although development is retarded for the time being, funds are being laid aside for resumption of necessary work after the war," says Mr. Kynh who adds that the state has reason to feel grateful for the appropriate policies so thoughtfully enacted and so effectively administered as to provide an immediate contribution to war and which, if maintained, provide a great hope for the future.

S. O. S.

The Committee in charge of solicitation for funds for the Infant Sanitarium is sending out an S. O. S. for girls from eight years old and up to aid in the work on July third. Any girls who are willing to give their time to this worthy cause for four hours on Saturday are asked to report at the Sanitarium at nine o'clock in the morning and work until one.

SAFETY POSTER ISSUED BY A.A.A.

No driver can escape the "danger zone" that stretches ahead of his car and that represents the distance within which he cannot stop, John B. Dey, vice president of T.A.A., said recently in announcing the distribution throughout this area of a new colorful AAA poster entitled "Your Stopping Distance is Your Danger Zone. Control It," as part of the Club's civic safety program to help drivers avoid traffic accidents.

"The stopping distance represents a danger zone which always stretches out ahead of every moving car," Mr. Dey said. "As the driver becomes tired or drowsy, resulting in an increase in his reaction-time, the danger zone lengthens. As the speed of his car increases, this zone of danger stretches out much farther. Road conditions, such as rain, ice or snow and type of pavement, as well as condition of brakes, can make it still longer. Every driver has this zone to deal with. He cannot escape it. And in his driving he must always plan for it. A car cannot really be in control unless a driver is taking this danger zone into consideration.

"Wide drivers always take into account this danger zone," Mr. Dey added. "By trading lightly on the accelerator when there is any indication at all that another car or pedestrian will enter the danger zone. A puff of smoke from the exhaust of a parked car, indicating that the driver is about to pull out, or the feet of a pedestrian who is standing in front of a parked car or truck and is otherwise invisible, are hints to the wise driver to slow down and thus reduce his danger zone. By keeping alert, by being sure that his brakes are in excellent condition, by not driving after drinking or when overtired and by reducing speed to conform to conditions of roadway, other cars and pedestrians, the wise driver makes sure that he can stop within his danger zone."

C. & P. Awards Three Star Emblem

V. C. Tillett, an employee in the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, received, during June, a three-star emblem in recognition of fifteen years of service with the company, according to an announcement by W. W. Stroud, manager of the Virginia Beach office. During June, 35 employees of the C. and P. Telephone Company of Virginia were awarded emblems. They hadan aggregate of 695 years of service.

"THE VOICE of a majority, swaying the course of government does not insure good government except it be the voice of a well-informed and well-intentioned people."

JULY 4TH, 1943

Sunday will be just another day for many of us, a day of frivolity for others, but to some it will be the Fourth of July. This year it should be considered with a particular significance, and why? This day has been set aside by the government of the United States of America as a holiday, a day given to the people of this Republic to reverently and with just pride reflect upon the spirit evidenced by those early American patriots, who as subjects of a mighty kingdom, declared themselves independent and absolved from all allegiance to a foreign crown.

On the Fourth of July, 1776, the Declaration of Independence was declared by a unanimous vote of the representatives of the thirteen American Colonies in Congress assembled. That day, by that declaration, the American life was pronounced to the world. The American way of life was that day established. God grant that it shall not change, but that our people may continue to enjoy those unalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

During the past 167 years this date has been celebrated, but the manner of the celebration has changed with the years, and it appears now to be just another holiday—a day for pleasure-seekers—a day of many accidental fatalities, little thought, if any, is being given to the real significance of this annual celebration.

This day, July 4, 1943, should be a day of thoughtful consideration. We, as a united nation, stand for the same spirit of independence, freedom, and love of liberty as did those men of the thirteen colonies in the year 1776. That same spirit was manifested in 1912, again in 1917. Today the most serious threat is being made to those sacred privileges upon which this nation was founded.

We believe it to be apropos in these times of stress to review a few of the expressions of the leadership of our forefathers in their declaration of Independence:

"When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel to the separation.

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly, all experience hath shown, that mankind is more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is the right, it is their duty to throw off such Government, and provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such now is the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these States. To prove this, let facts be submitted to a candid world."

May we on the Fourth of July keep the celebration from being one of pure frivolity and accidental suicide? May we, with vision, courage, stability, and stamina be faithful to those patriots of 1776, whose words it would be well to remember: "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our Sacred Honor."

Let this day, too, be for us a day of dedication!

THE INFANT SANITARIUM

In the year 1888 a group of twelve women headed by the late Mrs. Barton Myers (nee Katharine Baldwin) had a vision, a vision which grew into reality, and during 55 years has grown in magnitude. As a result of this vision and the untiring efforts and interest of that small band of women an institution was established at Virginia Beach for the purpose of giving care and treatment to sick babies of indigent families. The need for such a sanitarium was soon recognized, and the institution grew steadily.

During its 55 years of service thousands of babies and toddlers have received medical care and have been given a chance to become useful and valuable citizens. The value of this institution is inestimable. Established as a charitable organization, it continues to operate on that basis, and no charges are made for the services rendered.

Various means have been sought to procure the costs of maintenance, one of these has been the Fourth of July "Balloon Sale." This has been a prestige at Virginia Beach. It has always netted a substantial sum toward the support of the institution.

This year, however, under existing war time circumstances, there will be no sale of balloons, due to the demand for rubber to continue the fight for democracy. Nevertheless, the fight for the health of our future citizens to carry on this democracy must go on. It will go on under the leadership of these staunch and faithful women who recognize the responsibility placed upon them.

This Fourth of July there will be no balloon sale, but from 9:00 A. M. until 1:00 P. M., Saturday, July 3, there will be numbers of ardent supporters of the institution on the streets of Virginia Beach with little paper cartons ready to receive your contribution toward carrying on a work of inestimable value in aiding the health and happiness of a future generation. If we give our all for the protection of our own liberties, let's make way for the opportunity for the next generation to prepare to carry on and assume the obligations that we leave as a legacy. So when you see a paper cup, box or a milk bottle in front of you, remember the many children who will be benefited. Give with a liberal heart and a free hand.

WILL NOT FORGET

It is often said that war is harder for those who remain behind than for those who go. Millions are now experiencing the sleepless nights, the ceaseless worry of remaining at home while others go to war. No small source of concern over loved ones in the service is the fear that they may not receive proper medical care. This can be dispensed with. The men in military service are receiving the best that medical science can give them.

In reviewing the military medical record of the first year after Pearl Harbor, the American Medical Journal says: "During the year the only serious incident from a medical point of view was the jaundice associated with inoculation against yellow fever. The first week of February, 1943, found atypical pneumonia and meningitis most prominent of the infectious diseases but even these were scattering with a few cases here and there and only a score or slightly more of cases of either in the few camps most seriously affected. Since January, 1941, and up to now, excluding battle casualties, the death rate has been the lowest in the history of our Army. During World War I, 1 patient of each 3 with meningitis died; now only 1 in 20 dies. Prompt diagnosis, efficient care and sulfonamides have made the difference."

The American public owes a debt of gratitude to the medical men that it will never be able to fully repay. The countless thousands of men who will return after the war, thanks to the skill of doctors serving in the front lines, will not forget that debt.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are as different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."

"Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials. In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflaging equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratroop equipment and dozens of other things. "Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out...ready and willing to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have."

Conference of Alcoholic Beverage Industries, Inc.

FIGHTING THE WAR DOES NOT CEASE FOR HOLIDAYS

In peace time telephone users make many Long Distance calls in the several days preceding a national holiday—before Independence Day, for example—planning weekend trips or inviting out-of-town folks to visit them.

But let's not do it this year. War calls will be crowding Long Distance lines before and on the Fourth of July just as at other times. So, to clear the way for these essential calls, please use Long Distance only when it is really necessary—before the holiday and all the while we have a war on our hands.

Theater Previews

"HAPPY GO LUCKY," will open at the Bayne Theater on Friday, July 2nd and 3rd. A technicolor film starring Mary Martin, Dick Powell, Betty Hutton, Rudy Vallee and Eddie Bracken. Blazing with color, laughs, romance and rhythm is Paramount's gayest, tropical tune-up, with thrills and fun of a summer vacation.

The picture tells the laugh-filled story of a fortune-hunting Miss (Mary Martin) who arrives at a resort island in the Caribbean on board a luxury cruiser and pretends to be the daughter of a millionaire. It's her idea that it's a lot easier to land a goldfish by using her own gold as bait. Unfortunately, her own gold doesn't last too long. Dick Powell and Eddie Bracken, a couple of happy go lucky beach boys, help her in her campaign to snaffle millionaire Rudy Vallee. By the time Vallee is safely on the hook, however, Mary is head over heels in love with Powell, and vice versa.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Maria Montez, Sidney Toler, Jan Hall and Sabu will be starred in "WHITE SAVAGE." Another technicolor adventure film of a tempest of the Tropics who is as savage as the jungle call and alluring as the pagan night. The story:

Princess Maria Montez rules a South Sea Island. Across the channel lies Port Coral, melting pot of all races, where Thomas Gomez operates a trading post. He has long wanted to buy Montez's island, and to this end has cultivated the friendship of Tusman Bey, Montez's wayward brother, who shares the estate with her.

Jon Hall, shark hunter, is barred from the channel between the island and Port Coral by the Princess' edict, and seeks an interview with her, hoping to gain a concession. In this, he is aided by Sabu, youthful insider, son of Constance Jurdy, Montez's guardian. Montez falls in love with Hall, but when he breaches the subject of fishing concessions, she jumps immediately to the conclusion that he has outwitted her, and dismisses him angrily. Go to the Bayne and see how this exciting melodrama ends!

"SQUADRON LEADER X," starring Ann Dvorak, Eric Portman and Martin Miller, will be the feature for Wednesday and Thursday. The story of one man fighting for his life against the British Empire.

Nazi aviator Eric Portman is ordered to dress as an English pilot, bomb Holland, and pose as an Englishman, thus discrediting England to the Dutch. The plan backfires when the Dutch underground mistakes him for a true Englishman, and whisks him to England before he can escape. Realizing he will be shot if captured, Portman, who has lived all graduate of Oldfields school and the Academy of Fine Art in Philadelphia. The groom is the son of the late Henry B. Thompson and Mrs. Thompson of "Broadwood" Wilmington, Del. He graduated in the class of 1928 at Princeton University and was a member of the Ivy club.

In the absence of Lt. Watson, the bride was given in marriage by her uncle Lt. Col. Lewis A. Maury. Mrs. Richard Cromlin of Norfolk was maid of honor.

his life in England, gets in touch with a former girl friend, Ann Dvorak, and forces her to help him escape the country. They get in touch with two former Nazi agents, Martin Miller and Beatrice Varley, and make plans for an escape to Ireland.

"YOUNG AND WILLING," will open at the Roland Theater Friday and Saturday, July 2nd and 3rd. William Holden, Susan Hayward, Eddie Bracken and Martha O'Driscoll sharing honors in the little roles. Romance moves into a three-room apartment as three stage-struck girls and three love-sick boys take possession. The madcap experiences of these six young stage aspirants, who scheme by hook or crook to have their talent recognized by stage producer Arthur Kenny, make up the story of "Young and Willing." Guaranteed to drive the blues away.

Sunday and Monday, "BERLIN CORRESPONDENT," will be the feature attraction. Virginia Gilmore, Dana Andrews and Mona Mars co-starring. There will be a double feature on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, "TOMORROW WE LIVE," starring Ricardo Cortez and Jean Parker and Tim Holt in "BANDIT RANGER." A trigger-fast action adventure in old Texas where cut-throat cattle rustlers plot their evil trade, is the theme, starring the popular western hero Tim Holt. Here are pulse-quickening thrills built to order to please the appetite of all lovers of daring and romance.

station number three, which is located in his garage apartment on 52nd Street. This station will also have two graduate nurses, Mrs. John Cole, head nurse, with Mrs. R. S. Fuller assistant.

Mrs. Russell Simmons, having been appointed by the Board as general chairman of the project and entrusted with the responsibility of purchasing supplies and equipping the various stations, conferred with Major M. L. Todd, Chief Medical Officer for Civilian Defense for Princess Anne county and Virginia Beach in case of disaster, as to the necessary equipment and supplies.

Each station meets with the black-out requirements of the state and has a complete set-up of the following emergency supplies: sand bags, drugs, instruments, bandages, triangles, blankets and sterile dressings, including nurses' and doctors' gowns. The latter having been sterilized and sealed in large sterile tins and labeled as to the contents.

Two boxes of gauze were made up, one at the Virginia Beach Red Cross work room, under the supervision of Mrs. E. S. Mullen, thermom chairman.

All bandages were made at the Red Cross work room in the home of Mrs. C. E. Herbert. Mrs. Herman Whitehurst cut all doctors' and nurses' gowns, eight of each, and twelve night shirts. These articles to be made, were distributed among the residents of Virginia Beach and the members of the United States Coast Guard Welfare unit, working under the supervision of Mrs. Hugh McFerman.

The Needlework Guild of Princess Anne county and Mrs. Claud Bell, donated the linen. Lieut. Mildred Lachman, commanding officer of the Wrens, presented as her donation, twenty four sheets, blankets, and a bolt of muslin for use in making extra bandages.

Other articles needed for each station were purchased in Norfolk. Mr. Russell Simmons gave his aid in repairing damaged articles. An operating room table was purchased at the cost of $10 due to the fact it was badly rusted. However, the men at the police and fire station, wishing to do their bit, gave their time and efforts to renovating it and with sandpaper and paint made it look like new.

Post 113 of the American Legion is sharing its building for the Casualty Station. A small operating room was placed in the large room. Mr. L. B. Gray donated a basin and installed running water. In the remaining part of the room divided by French doors, donated by Mr. Claud Bell, are placed ten cots, made up with white spreads. Mr. L. B. Wickersham gave two strong stables which are being used for extra emergency and to hold supplies.

The lack of electricity in the building is taken care of by the use of kerosene stoves, wall bracket lamps, battery lanterns and flash lights.

Letters of commendation have been received by Chief Hobcock from National and State headquarters, complimenting the committee in charge for its splendid work and praising a community which is so mindful of its civic duty that it has co-operated so wholeheartedly in establishing these stations so necessary to the safety and health of the entire district.

U. S. O. Board
the U.S.O. at Virginia Beach will be the second engagement and next week Pfc. Diamond will take his "troopers" to Norfolk for an engagement at one of the U.S.O. Clubs in the city. Among the artists are magicians, tumbling twins, tricksters with ropes, a fire-eater, vocalists, a striptease artist, a virtuoso pianist and to top it all the Camp Pendleton orchestra which is well-known and appreciated for its past service at the club.

PARTY FOR INDUSTRIES
On Tuesday night the Lions Club, the Rotarians and the U.S.O. Club, all of Virginia Beach, will sponsor a party for the men of the community who will soon be inducted into the armed forces. The hostesses for the evening will be the Wrens, with Lt. Mildred Lachman acting as chairman of the occasion. The high light of the evening's entertainment will be selections from the Camp Pendleton "Talent On Parade," which will be presented the night of the 5th at the Club.

NEW ASSISTANT DIRECTOR
Mrs. Evelyn Walsh arrived from Petersburg on Tuesday, June 28, to act as assistant director for the summer months.

MISS FANTON TO SUCCEED SEIWELL ON BOARD
At a meeting of the Advisory Board of the U.S.O. Watch this paper for further timely tips on canning from your Victory Garden and local food surpluses. Clip them for ready reference!

IT'S BERRY PICKING AND GLASSING TIME!

One crate of twenty-four baskets will give sixteen glassed quarts.

FRESH FRUITS, like vegetables, contain important minerals and vitamins. So glassed local fruits and juices are good assets for year-round diets. They are, however, complete alternatives for fresh fruits and canned juices, oranges and grapefruit, which are leaders in supplying Vitamin C.

BLACKBERRIES HEAD THE LIST FOR LOCAL GLASSING, followed by huckleberries, raspberries, boysenberries, youngberries and dewberries. Strawberries are excellent for preserves, jams, and conserves, but not for glassing. They take up valuable jar space and contribute little, if any, food value.

IT IS IMPORTANT TO UTILIZE ALL POSSIBLE JAR SPACE, more so this year than ever, and although the method we suggest requires more time, you will be rewarded with less floating fruit. The berries will be firm and good for serving "as is," or in dough, batters, and pastries. Unless your family is small, you will find it an advantage to use quart or even half-gallon jars, and it is wise to figure on a quart jar holding one and a half quarts of berries. Since berries take under thirty minutes to process, it is safe to use any of the commercial jars, which by testing, you can satisfactorily fit with the two-piece Mason jar closures. Do not, however, use these jars for longer processing periods than thirty minutes.

SELECT RIPE, FIRM BERRIES... free from mold; glass them as soon as possible after picking or purchasing. Wash them two to three quarts at a time in cold water; gently lift them up and down, letting berries fall through the fingers. Do not cap and stem them until after washing, because this preserves the natural juices.

PLACE ABOUT THREE QUARTS OF WASHED BERRIES in a square of thin white cloth and dip them into actively boiling water. With tongs or a long-handled fork, keep cloth suspended in water and stay at the range while you count thirty seconds. Remove the bag at once and turn berries into hot jars to within 1/2-inch of jar top. While adding them, shake the jar to press berries gently into place. A sterilized wooden or silver spoon may be used. Avoid crushing or mashing. Add 2 to 4 table-spoons of sugar, which makes them plenty sweet and is within our Government's proposed allowance for canning—one pound of sugar for every finished quart. You might like to add about 1/4 teaspoon of salt to each quart. Fill jar to within 1/2-inch of top with boiling water or hot juice which was made by crushing, simmering, and straining some of the ripier berries through a thin cloth. Wipe jar rims clean with a wet cloth and immediately seal according to jar manufacturer's directions.

If there is a reason for you not adding sugar, by all means use hot berry juice rather than water to fill the jars and you will be rewarded with a superior product in food values, natural sweetness and flavor.

ALL FRUITS ARE BEST PROCESSED BY METHOD OTHER THAN PRESSURE CANNER. Plan so that the Boiling Water Bath, which is the most widely used method, is ready for the glassed berries. Lower all jars carefully so that they do not touch each other. Quickly bring water back to a rapid boil, then carefully count time:

Process Berries in Boiling Water Bath:
Pts., 15 Mins. Qts., 20 Mins. 1/2 Gall., 25 Mins.

NOTE: Request information on Oven Processing of Berries from our Home Service Department, if you have a heat-controlled, insulated oven.

LUMBER FOR FARMS

Five hundred million board feet of softwood lumber have been made available for farm needs by WFB and WFA under certain conditions. Preference ratings may be no higher than AA-2. Ratings may not be assigned for lumber to be used in construction or repair of dwellings, or in construction subject to the provisions of Conservation Order L-41. Farmers apply on form GA-201, lumber dealers on form GA-202. This order is good through September 20, 1943.

BROWN PAPER DRIVE

The State Salvage Committee is asking all Virginians to save used brown paper, used brown paper bags, used corrugated boxes and used brown containers. Brown paper contains pulp fibers which are needed to make necessary V-containers for the Armed Forces, and the manpower shortage threatens a pulp shortage. Any waste material dealer will buy the types of paper mentioned, and local salvage chairman will soon start an intensive collection campaign. The drive will not be nationwide, but will be conducted only in certain selected states, of which Virginia is one.

STABILIZING PRICE OF VEGETABLES

A program has been started that will maintain fair and equitable returns for the canning industry, at the same time preventing increases in consumer prices of green peas, snap beans, sweet corn, canned tomato and other primary tomato products. It includes: (1) No increase in the ceiling prices of canners; (2) The Commodity Credit Corporation will absorb part of the processing cost, caused by approved increased wages, to permit processors to obtain net returns from 1943 operations in line with the average net return during representative pre-war years. For minor vegetables, increase will be reflected in higher ceiling prices.

INCREASE IN FARM MACHINERY

A new farm machinery and equipment order (WPB-L-257) sets up quotas based on the actual needs of farmers for machinery and equipment as determined by the War Food Administration. The order, which becomes effective July 1, permits uncompleted quotas under L-170 to be produced in addition to quotas hereby established.

SAFE, SANE AND SOBER HOLIDAY

Busses Carry Capacity Crowds. Scarcity of Cars

No Accidents or Casualties at the Beach

Despite the large crowds that thronged the Beach over the Fourth of July week end, no accidents occurred. Every hotel and cottage was filled to capacity but the police reported that violence and disorder were negligible. There were no drownings or near drownings reported.

Due to the gas shortage and a general fear on the part of most motorists of being apprehended for violation of the O. P. A. ban on pleasure driving, traffic on the highways was unusually light. The burden was thus thrown on the bus and rail system. The Norfolk & Southern augmented its highway system of busses by additional rail busses and the steam train with extra cars helped handle the crowds with capacity loads each trip.

As far as the sobriety angle was concerned, the chief credit went to the State ABC Board's rationing system, which made it impossible for thousands of individuals to get any whiskey at all with which to celebrate the Fourth, and made it improbable that anyone had enough to do a great deal of whoopee-making.

Too many retail beer dealers in the city, suffering from an acute scarcity of beer, simply closed their doors Saturday night and announced that they would remain closed until Tuesday.

All told, the Fourth of July observance here was as safe, sane and sober as anyone could have hoped for.

STAMP BOOK No. THREE ON WAY

Do not be disturbed if your War Ration Book Three has not arrived, although your neighbor has already received his. Loren E. Barkhouse, Acting Director, Norfolk District, OPA explained today.

Applications, it was pointed out, are being filled in the order of their receipt in Richmond and not by town and city.

Failure of a person to receive his book or to make correction of errors will cause no hardships, however, since the new ration book will not be used earlier than September.

Forwarding addresses will not be considered by the post offices, and in cases where the applicant has moved, his book will be returned to the OPA Mailing Center in Richmond. It may be obtained upon request shortly after August 1.

Persons receiving more than one book may be prosecuted even if applications are unsigned, as it is a violation of the law for anyone to have more than one War Ration Book Three issued to him (Continued on page four)

ELECTORS MAY DRIVE TO VOTE

"It is not a violation of the ban on pleasure driving for a voter to drive to the polls on Election Day to cast his ballot," said L. E. Barkhouse, Director of the Norfolk District Office.

It was pointed out that numerous requests have been received at various Ration Boards and at the District Office, whether or not driving to the polls was prohibited under the pleasure driving ban now being enforced in Virginia and other Eastern States.

OPA presses no hardships on American voters, neither does it offer any restrictions in the traditional privilege of a free vote. Barkhouse pointed out that it was permissible for voters to pick up their friends and carry them to the polls to vote, provided they use gasoline purchased by them with "A" coupons. OPA Rationing Authorities pointed out specifically, that the use of gasoline secured by the use of "B" and "C" supplementary coupons cannot be used for any purpose other than for which it was issued.

Bombs Blast Guadalcanal Airport

Heavy bombs burst on Guadalcanal's strategically important airport as Marines, left, watch the attack. Desperate attempts have been made by Japanese land, sea and air forces to recapture the airport but they have been repulsed each time.

LT. McCUSKEY GUEST SPEAKER

Lions to Hold First Bi-Monthly Meeting Monday

Convention in Cleveland

July 21, 22, 23

The Lions Club of Virginia Beach will hold its first bi-monthly meeting on Monday night, July 12th, at the Pinewood Hotel. Howard Gibbs of the program committee, announces that Lieutenant Scott McCuskey of Stuttgart, Arkansas, will be the guest speaker. Lt. McCuskey has recently returned from the South Pacific.

Bill Johnson, president, will announce all committee appointments for the coming year. Al Craft, chairman of special work, will make his report on the progress made in the formation of a new Boy Scout troop in the community.

International Convention

The International Convention of Lionism will be held in Cleveland on July 21, 22 and 23. Horace Simmons will be the official delegate of the club. Kenneth Cruser, deputy-district Governor and Al Craft will be among those attending from Virginia Beach.

Important Dates to Remember

SUGAR

Stamp No. 13 became valid on June 1 and is good for five pounds of sugar through August 15.

Stamps No. 15 and No. 16 in War Ration Book One are valid for five pounds of sugar each, for use in home canning until October 31. OPA warns that sugar obtained on these coupons must be used for canning only. Housewives may apply at local boards for supplementary sugar rations for home canning, if essential.

Coffee

Coffee stamp No. 21 became valid for one pound of coffee on July 1 and will expire on July 21.

Stamp No. 22 will be valid from July 22 to August 11.

Point Rationing - Red Stamps

(Rationing of meats and meat products, canned fish and condensed milk, evaporated and condensed milk, most edible oils and most cheeses).

The schedule of validity dates for the new stamps is as follows:

Generous Response Assures Continuance of Worthy Work

White Boxes Replace Balloons of By-Gone Years

Tag Day at the Infant Sanitarium was a great success in every sense of the word. From early morn until late afternoon Saturday those interested in the welfare of the organization worked with untiring efforts. Even the tiny tots called the "toddlers" had their share in bringing in the largest contribution ever given to the work. The generosity of the residents and visitors at the Beach should certainly not go unmentioned and the Board of Directors, of which Mrs. J. D. Dal is head, wishes to express grateful appreciation to all those who so willingly gave their time and efforts, and to the contributors who made the day such a success.

The final report on the day's activities was a total collection of $734.60.

Some people gave time, some money and some their talent. The first contribution of the day came at 7:00 a. m. when Helen Sousa of Norfolk, arrived with scissors and clippers and gave haircuts to 20 children.

According to their daily custom when starting for the beach the Toddlers, are two and there about, were held together with a rope to simplify street crossing. This time the rope was much bedecked with red, white and blue, and each child had his or her little box, trimmed in our national colors. After an hour's outing on the boardwalk they returned to the Sanitarium with a total of $562 in their boxes.

During the morning and late afternoon the older children gave performances of songs and dances on the lawn in front of the building. Through their efforts $25.00 was added to the fund.

Through all the years of its existence the public has been ever generous with support of this most worthy cause. Each summer hundreds of children are benefited and in a great many instances the mothers come too, giving some of their time to help with the work and enjoying a much needed vacation themselves. While there were not as many teams at work on Tag Day this year as in the past, those who worked came earlier and worked longer and returned with larger collections than ever before. Just another incident of splendid co-operation along our home front.

Mrs. Joseph D. Deal, president of the Board of Directors of the Infant Sanitarium, took her stand at the front gate with her white box. Her comment was that never before had she been met with such kind and generous response to her pleas both from the service men and civilians. She was assisted by Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Alice Ott. R. N. of the Sanitarium, and Mrs. Lucy Folen of Norfolk.

Among the young people from the Beach who gave their time to the solicitation were: Sara Beth Herr, Ann Davis, Lindsey Martin (Continued on page four)

TRAILOR PARK CABIN BURNED

A fire of undetermined origin was discovered in the Georgia cottage, Trailor Park, Sea Tack, about 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, July 7th. The Virginia Beach Fire Company answered the call although Trailor Park is out of the city limits. The occupants of the cottage were away at the time the blaze was discovered. The estimated damage to the building was between $600 and $700. The furnishings were badly damaged by smoke and water, the actual extent of which was not obtainable at the time the fire was brought under control.

To Liquidate HOLC and NYA

Continuing its research into the financial affairs of federal agencies and bureaus, the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures issued three reports to Congress during May. The subjects covered were: Home Owners' Loan Corporation; National Youth Administration; Travel and Communications in the Federal Government.

The Committee recommended immediate and full liquidation of the H. O. L. C. and stated that the task will not be "any easier or more advantageous to the Government at a later date than at present."

In Senate Document 54, the Joint Committee reported that it had examined "every possible justification for continuance of the National Youth Administration" and found none.

Suggesting that this agency be liquidated as of July 1, 1943, the committee concluded:

1. The National Youth Administration activities duplicate the programs of other government agencies and of industry;
  2. The cost of N. Y. A. training is much higher than necessary;
  3. Enrollment in N. Y. A. has fallen off markedly and the number of female trainees is rapidly overtaking the number of males;
  4. For male students, N. Y. A. has been forced increasingly to depend on youths under the draft age of 18;
  5. Equipment of N. Y. A. is not being used sufficiently for satisfactory training results;
  6. Only 50 per cent of the youths trained by N. Y. A. utilize their skills in war industry;
  7. Educational groups fear that the N. Y. A. presages centralized control of public education.
- Concerning Government travel and communications expenses the Committee reported these expenses are "inordinately high" and that "it is time to call a halt to such wasteful and unpatriotic expenditures."
- Continued aeronautical research and constant checks in battle areas have resulted in some 400 improvements in Flying Fortresses.

SCOUT AWARDS MADE AT RALLY

Mrs. George Boush Receives Ten-Year Pin and Bar

Day Camp Held Each Tuesday

On June 29th at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the First Presbyterian church, the Girl Scouts of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County held their annual Scout Rally and Court of Awards. The troop is under the leadership of Mrs. Emmett Kyle, captain, and Mrs. George Boush and Mrs. J. B. Tuggle, lieutenants. Mrs. Carl Forsberg is chairman of the Troop Committee. Other committee members are Mrs. Seiden Grandy, Mrs. James Bell, Jr., Mrs. Burkes Withers, Mrs. Charles Singluff, Mrs. Andrew Gustafson and Mrs. E. C. Hadaway.

Rev. Joseph B. Clower addressed the gathering before the awards were made. Mrs. George Boush, having served more than ten years with the Girl Scouts in Princess Anne County, was presented with a pin and ten year guard for her faithful services with the troop.

FARMERS MAY BUY SUPPLIES

From now on, farmers will have first chance at buying the shovels, forks and other supplies they need to meet 1943 food production goals. WFB is seeing to it that its regional offices, newspaper editors, and the County Farm Rationing Committees are up to date on all developments in the program to keep farmers supplied with necessary items. If they have any questions, farmers—or the dealers who supply them—have only to telephone or drop in at any of these offices.

Who May Buy Equipment

Briefly, WFB has given everyone who engages in farming as a business by raising crops, livestock, bees, or poultry, or who uses farm supplies in operating silo filling equipment, threshing machines, or similar equipment for farmers priority to buy any of 140 listed farm items.

More Supplies Coming

To help farmers get their share of the items which are the most urgently needed of the 140, WFB is also directing manufacturers or distributors to produce or set aside for sale for farmers specified quantities of 66 items. As the supply in a given line becomes too large or too small, adjustments will be made. There will thus be a steady, adequate flow of supplies.

Buying Method Is Simple

To obtain supplies, the farmer has only to give his dealer a signed certificate, reading as follows:

"I certify to the War Production Board that I am a farmer and that the supplies covered by this order are needed now and will be used for the operation of a farm."

The farmer may copy and sign this form himself, or the dealer may have forms printed, for him to sign.

However, if a farmer wishes to

NEWS OF OUR MEN—WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Morecock Promoted To Captain

1st. Lieut. R. Sidney Morecock has just received his promotion to Captain in the U. S. Army, according to information received by his mother, Mrs. Sidney Morecock of 37th Street. Captain Morecock is serving with the armed forces overseas.

Harden Is Mississippi Cadet

Cadet Ernest R. Harden, 3d. son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Harden, Jr., of 204 Thirty-sixth street, Virginia Beach, is now at Keeler Field, Biloxi, Miss., with the Army Air Forces. Cadet Harden, who graduated from Maury in 1941, was a member of the class of 1945 at V. M. I. He entered the service June 5 at Langley Field.

Two Promoted

Two local men have been promoted to the rank of major in the Marine Corps, according to announcement made recently. They are Hunter C. Phelan, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter C. Phelan of Virginia Beach, and Richard Dickson, "Steephill," Thirty-sixth street, Virginia Beach.

DeFrees Becomes Major

Maj. Lindsay J. DeFrees of Lynnhaven has recently been promoted to that rank from captain. He was under fire during the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941, later saw service in the South Pacific, and returned to America last January. He is now executive officer of an anti-aircraft unit at Camp Stewart, Ga.

Brown Trains

George S. Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Brown of Chesapeake Beach, is in the Marine Corps and is in training at the Aviation Machinists Mate School at Jacksonville, Florida. Brown, who entered the service January 6, attended Maury high school and worked at the Navy Yard.

Strickland Marine

Pfc. William A. Strickland, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Strickland, Norfolk, R. F. D. No. 2, is now serving with the Marine Corps. He recently spent an eight-day furlough with his parents after completing the radio operator's course and is rated Field Radio Operator, (C.P.). Strickland has now returned to Training Center, Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C. He has been in the service about seven months.

buy more than $25 worth of any one item at one time, he must have his certificate approved in writing by the County Farm Rationing Committee.

How Dealers Re-Order

A dealer may at any time buy new farm supplies to replace those he has sold and has received certificates for from farmers. To place an order with his supplier, he simply certifies that his order, at wholesale prices, does not amount to more than 75 per cent of the retail value of the goods already sold. The difference of 25 per cent represents the dealer's mark-up allowance.

If the dealer wishes to stock up on farm supplies immediately, he may do so without waiting for farmers' certificates. In this case, he certifies to his supplier that he expects to sell the goods covered by his order, and that the goods ordered plus the goods on hand do not exceed a month's normal inventory.

Galilee Church to Have Guest Preachers

The Rev. Stiles B. Lines left this week to attend a conference of the clergy at Kanuga, Hendersonville, N. C. During his absence the pulpit will be occupied by visiting clergy.

On July 11, the Rev. John F. Ward, rector of the Church of the Ascension, Norfolk, will conduct services. Mr. Ward is the diocesan civilian chaplain to the armed forces for the diocese of Southern Virginia, working under the direction of the Bishop, the Rt. Rev. William A. Brown.

On July 18, the preacher will be the Rev. Alfred L. Alley, assistant minister at Bruton Parish Church, Williamsburg. Mr. Alley was graduated from the Virginia Theological Seminary last year, and was recently ordained to the priesthood. Services on both Sundays will include the Holy Communion at 8:00 a. m. and the morning service with sermon at 11:00 a. m. There will also be services at the Eastern Shore Chapel at 8:30 a. m.

CO-OPERATING FOR VICTORY

All up and down the country you hear the same question, "What are you doing to help win this war?" Many, many thousands have found their answer in the armed forces, places on the production line, parts in one or another of the civilian activities and organizations that center around the needs of the men in uniform. Our own home front is just as vital to victory and our citizens are making the front line strong by keeping this home front in top form.

Citizens of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are convinced that such a positive attitude will make a great contribution to the victory for which the whole decent world is fighting. Such feeling is evidenced by the wholehearted support given the efforts to establish safety stations under the organization of the Civilian Defense Council, again, the wholehearted response to the urgent needs of the Infant Sanitarium when the little white boxes were held out for contributions to help our future citizens get the right start in life. When the U.S. has need of help, physical or financial, the community rallies to the cause and renders real service.

A community is made up of individuals. To each individual comes a double opportunity. First, what he does himself along the "on-guard" line, then what he gets others to do by passing the word on to them—and in proportion as each gets behind the snowball that has started it will gather size and speed and render a mighty sweeping service that can't be stopped. The opportunities for valuable service on the home front are limitless. Watch for your opportunity to serve, for with watchfulness and earnest effort going hand in hand the life "back home" can be kept as alert and capable as that "up front" and in the end win for all a true and lasting victory.

DON'T GET STAMPEDED

Those who are looking with alarm at the pay-as-you-go income reductions which started July 1, are laboring under a misconception. This is not a flat 20 per cent withholding from the entire pay envelope. It is subject to the same exemptions that are applicable to your income tax for dependents. It is the aim of the plan to have the deduction equal as nearly as possible to the income tax under the regular 1943 rates.

Thus a single person with no dependents who has a salary of $17.50 per week has $1.10 deducted. The same salary for a married person calls for a deduction of 20 cents. If the weekly pay is $35, the deduction for a single person is $4.00. For a married person $2.20, for a married person with one dependent, $1.00, and with two dependents, 70 cents.

The treasury department has witnessed the confusion in the minds of some people about this tax and has been afraid that many might become so uneasy that they would reduce their bond allotment payments. This would be a great mistake because the treasury is depending on the sale of bonds to a far greater extent in its war financing than it depends on taxation. If we curtail our systematic voluntary bond purchases, it will simply mean that the government will have to either raise the taxes higher or adopt some compulsory form of savings through the purchase of bonds—Rockbridge County News.

THE REAR ECHOLON SOLDIER (By Ruth Taylor)

The other evening I heard three young soldiers who had been wounded talk of their experience. One youngster, who looked like one of the high school boys in your town or mine, told us that his job was that of rear echelon soldier—that his unit brought up the supplies to the men in the front line. It was in the performance of this sometimes called "cushy" duty that he was hit—the only man in his group to survive.

And I thought that is what we are today—rear echelon soldiers. We do not go up to the front line to fight—but we nevertheless have a job to do, each and every one of us. It is our job in our war. And much of what our fighting men all over the world accomplish will depend upon how we do our part. They have the greater task, but we have an equal responsibility.

Our job as rear echelon soldiers is best expressed by a cartoon which is going the rounds and which has a very pertinent caption—"If you can't stand beside him, stand behind him."

This does not mean just turning out the goods and the food to supply the armed forces—though that task must come first in our lives. It does not just mean buying bonds—for, after all, that is just as good for us as it is for the war effort.

Being a good rear echelon soldier means a great deal more than producing weapons or purchasing bonds. It means facing the fight with the enemy, as our men are doing, and not fighting among ourselves. It means sacrificing our personal privileges, as they are sacrificing theirs. It means accepting restrictions as they accept the curtailment of their personal lives. It means disciplining our emotions and putting aside our prejudices as they have done. It means joining hands with all our fellow Americans, without regard to class, creed or color—as they have done—to work for the common good of all. In that spirit of unity which is as much the safeguard of our nation as it is of our armed forces.

And it means something still more. It means that we must keep the supply of the things of the spirit moving up to the front lines. We must keep alive those things for which they are fighting—Home, Religion, no matter by what creed it calls itself, Community life, The National Creed of freedom and equality of opportunity for all. The ideals for which they are fighting must be kept alive for them to come back to. It is little enough for us to do, when we consider what they, our sons, our brothers, our fellow citizens are doing for us in their fight to keep the aggressor from our shores, and in their conquest of tyranny to bring peace again on earth.

We may not fight on the battle fields—but we can all be rear echelon soldiers.

SOLDIERS DEPENDENTS GET CHECKS

Family allowances and voluntary allotments-of-pay are now in force for about four and a half million soldiers who have more than seven and one-half million dependents. The War Department has announced. More than 20 million family allowance and allotment-of-pay checks have been mailed to the wives, children, and other dependent relatives of Army men in one year.

AVOID FUEL SHORTAGES

Fuel shortages can be avoided, says a recent OWI report, only if—(1) Large consumers of fuel oil, those using more than 10,000 gallons a year, convert their oil burners to coal burners now; (2) Both home and industrial users of bituminous coal order supplies now; (3) Householders place orders for insulations, weather stripping, storm windows, etc., immediately.

100,000 DEHYDRATORS

A plan for making 100,000 domestic food dehydrators before September 1 has been approved by WPA. These dehydrators are urgently needed, says the War Food Administration, in time to preserve farm and victory garden fruits and vegetables. A home food dehydrator removes moisture from raw food, thereby preserving its flavor and food value for later use.

LOOSE CRITICISM OF THE PRESS

Elmer Davis, Director of the Office of War Information has engaged in a lot of unjustified criticism of the press. His statement that Washington newsmen were missing the biggest story of the war—America's production record—and were playing up the bickering among government agencies just doesn't make sense. The American newspapers have done a 100 per cent job in carrying that class of news. Whatever the papers have failed to print in the way of news has been in obedience to censorship rules, and in respect to the "hush," admonitions of the military chiefs.

The Office of War Information certainly missed the biggest story of the war when it held up the news about Pearl Harbor for one year. Many other big stories that the American public should have been told have been suppressed by the OWI and other agencies of the Administration.

Senator Bridges of New Hampshire indicates that Mr. Davis, real objection is that newsmen "have uncovered some news about Washington that does not look too well outside of Washington," and "now seeks to silence the Nation's press to cover sins of maladministration on the part of his New Deal."

In his reply to Mr. Davis, the New Hampshire Senator added the following: "Now, after repeated bungling, after being compelled to admit certain material issued by his office has been improper politically, Mr. Davis finds recourse in seeking to sneak Washington correspondents and the press in general. He seeks to make this country believe the unbiased news reports from Washington of faulty administration on the home front, of OPA, of foodstuffs, of rationing are so much bunk."

"Well, I know it isn't bunk, so do you. We all know it is the truth, the truth reported by these talented and able men and women."

"Mr. Davis finds his own answer in the repeated juggling and shifting of bureaucrats from one alphabetical hodge-podge to another each time public opinion catches up with the failure of the previous agency."

"For the good of the country I believe the OWI, its policies and its personnel should be thoroughly investigated."

OUR "NUMBER ONE" POSTWAR DRINK?

Evidence that after the war the teapot may cause the first major change in U. S. consumer habits since cigarettes emerged from the last war continues to pile up in the form of letters written home from our troops abroad, news dispatches, special magazine articles and photographs from all the Allied fighting fronts—including close-ups of General MacArthur drinking a mug o' tea at the front in New Guinea and General Eichelberger doing the same following the victory at Buna.

It would seem no exaggeration to predict that when the boys come home they may start the teapot on the road to becoming as much a symbol of America as it is of England, or as the Samovar is of Russia. As short a time as twelve months that prediction might have been laughed out of print, and those laughing loudest would probably have been the very same young men who have now become, to quote a phrase in a recent letter received from one of them, "Confirmed tea addicts," because they discovered that far from being a "lissy" drink, it is actually the "fightingest drink" in the world.

We hear from Ernie Pyle, for example, that "the R.A.F. custom of a spot of tea in the afternoon ought to be introduced in America." From tea-drinking Australia, the United Press reports that "the U. S. Army stationed here has acquired the custom of morning and afternoon tea." In a recent article in the Saturday Evening Post, two U. S. writers from Cairo declared that Americans in the Middle East had definitely taken up the tea habit and predicted that as a result "there will be a marked rise in tea consumption in the U. S. after the war is over." And from Henry McLemore in England we learn that the "biggest tea drinker in the British Isles today" is a young U. S. flier from Mississippi who had never touched the stuff before, but now swears he "will have it every day" after he gets home.

Well, stranger things have happened. And when you stop to think of it, it wouldn't be so strange after all. Tea is not only the most popular drink in the world but also the most economical, with the single exception of water. And up to now, the U. S. is only a few members of the large family of United Nations who do not boast of tea as their national drink.

FUMBLING WITH FOOD

The War Food Administration startled the inexperienced and trustful public when it declared the United States would add more than 15 million acres in farms, to raise food and feed crops next year. A Congressional delegation issued warnings at the same time that the food situation is approaching a crisis. The legislators asked the President to appoint an over-all authority to handle food, with the head of such an authority having control over production and distribution, including prices and rationing. Director Davis of WFA, showed up promptly with a hatful of marketing quotas, allotment payments for corn, wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts.

President Roosevelt took his time before he turned thumbs down on Congressional pleas for a one-man food "czar." At the same time he renewed his demands for a subsidized roll-back of prices to support his theories and plans to check rising consumer costs and prevent inflation. Congress will continue to oppose—and probably defeat—granting fresh subsidies as there is mounting opposition to that way of handing out public money. Blocs, for and against subsidies are being formed.

Thus, we have two distinct schools of thought; first the President and his Administrators who stick to the New Deal theories that you can cure most anything by pouring plenty of money into the well—even subsidies. So far as putting food under the control of a single head is concerned the President is likely to have his own way. Even his bitterest opponents are inclined to agree with his statement before a press conference this week that people who think things through have an idea that a glorified czar might cure everything. The record of his own flock of "czars" shows that they have a batting average of about 50-50 up to date.

CALLING FATHERS

It has been decided by War Manpower Office not to call pre-Pearl Harbor fathers before October 1. Just how long that decision will last is too much for most any kind of a guesser. Such "decisions" generally last about a week.

It is related on first-class authority that the Army is turning to perfecting the present Army for early use and he probabilities are that expansion soon may end while there may be greater speed in training.

ONE BIG TAX ATTRACTS ANOTHER

The Nation's individual taxpayers will go the pay-as-you-go way, on the monthly collection system next month. Along with this good news President Roosevelt says that he will send Congress formal new recommendations for more, and probably higher taxes within a few weeks. The President said that the quicker the inflationary gap between purchasing power and available goods is closed the better it will be. To do this, he said, would probably require a combination of compulsory savings and more taxes. He told his press conference that he still opposes a sales tax because it would hit the poor people of the country, and that most people fall into that category. But he said that higher taxes on liquor and tobacco might be a good way to help close the inflationary gap.

As for the new tax program, Mr. Roosevelt said that he would send his proposals to the Capitol before Congress starts its proposed recess. Plan for the recess are not definite, but leaders hope to finish necessary work and let the members go home for about two months, starting July 15.

Funerals

Mrs. Margaret Corbelli Boyles Capps—Funeral services for Mrs. Capps, widow of Overton Bernard Capps, who died Saturday night at the residence, 2708 Atlantic avenue, Virginia Beach, were conducted at the Ewell & Williamson Funeral Home, Thirty-fifth street at Colonial avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Capps is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jack G. Slav, Virginia Beach; two sons, Arthur Richards, Virginia Beach, and O. B. Capps of Reading, Pa.; two grandchildren, Lyle Richards and Arthur Edward Richards and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Grace Sparrow Swann—Funeral services for Mrs. Swann, wife of James C. Swann, who died Friday afternoon at the residence at Virginia Beach, were held at Gellies Episcopal church, Virginia Beach, Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, with the Rev. Stiles B. Lines, rector, officiating. Mrs. Louis B. Robinson buried several organ selections. Burial was in Eastern Shore Chapel Cemetery, Oceana. The pallbearers were John R. Brock, Henry Brock, Arthur W. Brock, Mallory Nimmo, Dave Breslau, Capt. A. L. Barco, R. L. Burton, W. J. Lockwood, Dr. R. W. Woodhouse, Dr. Stanley H. Graves and Frank Ford.

Mrs. Aramith Deader Whitehurst, aged 81, long resident of Back Bay, died in a Norfolk hospital Saturday morning at 1:00 o'clock after a long illness. She is survived by four sons, W. L. C. H. and E. E. Whitehurst, of Princess Anne County, and C. W. Whitehurst, of Norfolk; a brother, Andrew Doster of Norfolk; and a sister, Mrs. Sallie Woodhouse of Princess Anne. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock in the Tabernacle Methodist church. Burial was in Elmwood Cemetery.

Soybean Price

A new support price on 1943 soybeans has been announced by the state AAA committee at $1.80 per bushel for green and yellow beans grading U. S. No. 2 or better with moisture content not over 14 per cent. The support price applies only to soybeans produced in 1943. No change has been made in the support or ceiling price of 1942 soybeans and there is no advantage to farmers to hold them off the market in expectation of higher prices. Farmers have been requested to dispose of all beans promptly to help relieve the oil situation and the protein shortage.

Theater Previews

An exciting melodrama is the opening feature at the Bayne Theater Friday and Saturday, July 9th and 10th. Alan Ladd, Loretta Young and William Bendix are cast in the leading roles of "CHINA." Alan Ladd blasts his way through Jap hordes to avenge the fate of a girl trapped by the ruthless sons of Nippon. An exciting, well fashioned story.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Mickey Rooney, Frank Morgan, Marsha Hunt and Donna Reed will be co-starred in "THE HUMMAN COMEDY," a truly four star picture taken from a Book-of-the-Month-Club book. Not just a good picture but a "great picture." Adapted from William Saroyan's book.

"This is the story of a human family: of the father, Ray Collins, already dead, but whose memory is serving to keep the family together; of the mother, Fay Palmer, whose understanding and patience has done much to make her family what it is; of brother, Van Johnson, in the army, even though he hates leaving home and who dies willingly to keep that home; and of his buddy, John Craven, who has been an orphan all his life, but who comes back from the war to Johnson's family to be one of them; of sister, Donna Reed, who is every one's sister; of the little brother, Jack Jenkins, who is just beginning to meet life, and discover what the words he hears mean; but, most of all, it is about the older brother, Mickey Rooney, who gets a job with the telegraph office, and meets people as an adult for the first time. It is just about every-day people who go through life with their happiness and sorrow.

"FIVE GRAVES TO CAIRO" will be the offering for Wednesday and Thursday. This is an exciting war melodrama with many thrilling angles starring Franchot Tone, Ann Baxter, Eric

Von Stroheim and Alvin Tamiroff. Combining a spy background with Von Stroheim as Krummel makes for lots of excitement, and the players, Baxter, Tone, Tamiroff, Van Eyck, etc., are well cast. Mark this down as one of the better war shows. Title comes from the fact that Von Stroheim, posing as a professor in prewar days, had led a group of German to find five spots in which to hide supplies, gasoline reserves, etc., in North Africa, anticipating the war.

At the Roland Theater the first offering will be a double feature. Jax Falkenburg and Tom Neale starred in "SHE HAS WHAT IT TAKES." A light singing and dancing picture to drive away your blues. Also "THE RETURN OF WILD BILL," a Western thriller.

There will also be a double feature on Sunday and Monday. "REDHEAD FROM MANHATTAN," with Lupe Velez and Michael Duane. Lupe, as the tumultuous tornado from the tropics, who sweeps Broadway from its feet. "ROBINHOOD OF THE RANGE" will be the added attraction. Charles Starrett will be cast in the title role of this turel picture of "rhythms roaring while six-guns bark."

There will be another double feature on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, "RELENT WITNESS" and "SADDLE MOUNTAIN ROUNDUP."

Health Notes

TICKS

"An increasing number of reports have been received by the State Health Department indicating that ticks are abundant this year. In the majority of instances, these ticks have been proven to be the insect responsible for Rocky Mountain Spotted fever in man," states Dr. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"This disease, which first was discovered on the western side of the Blister Root Valley in Montana a number of years ago, gradually has spread into many states. It now is well known in Virginia, with approximately fifty cases occurring throughout the state each year. However, Rocky Mountain Spotted fever in the eastern part of the United States is not as dangerous as it is in the northwest section of the country where the case fatality rate is very high. In Virginia, deaths from this infection result in twenty per cent of those contracting the disease.

"The U. S. Public Health Service annually supplies the State Health Department with a sufficient amount of vaccine to immunize individuals against this serious disease. This material is furnished free, upon request, to the physicians of the State. Those who expect to spend much time in woods or heavy underbrush country this summer are urged to take this vaccine.

"After walking through the woods or brush-covered areas, individuals should remove all ticks from their clothing and inspect themselves carefully to see if ticks are on their person.

"The tick is easily recognized. It is a flat, reddish, eight-legged insect, closely related to the spider family. It is virtually impossible to feel this insect crawl upon the surface of the body, and its bite or the process of embedding its head in the skin is painless." For these reasons, care in inspecting the body after being in infested localities is stressed.

"Incidentally, on removing ticks from dogs or cats, care should be exercised not to crush them as by this means the infect-ive body material may come in contact with minute skin abrasions and thus establish the infection.

"It is true that only about one in three hundred ticks is infected with the Rocky Mountain Spotted fever organism. However, laboratory tests are required to determine the uninfected from the infected ones. Therefore, everyone, for safety's and health's sake, must consider all ticks potentially dangerous, and guard themselves accordingly."

Public transportation trailers, buses, and airplanes are vital weapons of war. Over 2,000,000 members of our armed forces are transported monthly. Unnecessary travel and pleasure travel should be "out" for the duration. If necessary to travel, use a day train when possible. Take a box lunch and little luggage. Expect delayed arrivals and crowded conditions. Better still, enjoy the facilities of your own park, the "ole woman's" lot, your Victory Garden and your own back yard!

DEFER FARMER IS CO-OP PLEA

Reclassification of Essential Labor Said Necessary for Food Production

A resolution, passed by the board of directors of Southern States Cooperative, requesting the classification of irreplaceable key men engaged in the distribution of farm production supplies into a deferred draft class "in order to avoid a complete breakdown in the furnishing of essential production supplies to farmers" has just been sent to War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt.

This resolution has also gone to Major-General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, and Chester C. Davis, Food Administrator, according to a statement made by W. G. Wyss, of Richmond, general manager of the cooperative, an organization of 141,225 farmers in Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, and North Carolina.

The resolution takes cognizance of the fact that to some extent key men engaged in the manufacture and processing of food have been granted deferment, but the same consideration has not been extended to men in the field of the distribution of farm supplies.

Groups of key men engaged in the distribution of farm production supplies who are listed in the resolution as irreplaceable include those embracing district supervisors, local managers in charge, and proprietors. The manufacture and processing of essential production supplies for farmers are "futile aids to production, unless supplemented by efficient distribution," the resolution declares. "A breakdown in any link of the chain of service in farm production supplies will seriously impede farm production."

Stamp Book No. 3

The task of mailing the three million books to Virginians is expected to be completed by July 21.

War Ration Book Three itself combines unit stamps already familiar under the sugar, coffee and shoe programs—and point stamps such as the housewives have been using to buy canned goods, meats, and fats for several weeks past. There are eight pages in the new book. Four contain a single alphabet of brown point stamps in the usual 4, 5, 2 and 1 values, while each of the center four pages hold 48 unit stamps with each page identified by units of armament planes, guns, tanks and aircraft carriers.

No immediate use will be made of the replacement book. The unit stamps will be used for coffee, sugar and shoes when Book One runs out in the fall. The point stamps will provide a safeguard against the possibility that the red stamps in Book Two, now being used for meats and fats rationing, will run out before the issuance of Book Four. The latter book is in the drafting stage and will contain red and blue stamps, much the same as those in Book Two, and will be used for the same programs of processed foods, meats and fats.

At the present rate of spending, the red stamps in Book Two will be exhausted around October 1 and the blue stamps by the end of that month. Present plans call for the distribution of Book Four during August or September. However, in the event of an unforeseen delay, beyond October 1, the point stamps from Book Three will tide its consumers over.

Fuel Oil

Coupon No. 5 which became valid March 7, has a value of 10 gallons and is good until October. Householders are cautioned to preserve the identity stub of their heating ration as it will be required when next Winter's rations are issued.

Each householder, as well as apartment houses, hotels and all other users of heating oil will receive from local war price and rationing board a renewal application form. This form must be returned at once so that the board can process and mail rations immediately.

Shoes

Stamp No. 18 in Ration Book One became valid June 16 and is good until October 31 for the purchase of one pair of shoes. Certain types of casual and play shoes are not rationed.

GLASSING SUMMER AND FALL SNAP BEANS

One bushel at 30 pounds will give from 15 to 18 qts.

Just about now we should be getting ready to glass Snap Beans, that favorite green vegetable which is rich in Vitamins A, B, some C and iron. Perhaps, in addition, you are expecting harvests of String, Wax or Kentucky Wonder beans.

ALL BEANS GLASSING IN PODS REQUIRE ACCURATE TREATMENT TO PREVENT SPOILAGE. Because their fuzzy, nappy surface is a natural retainer of certain amounts of dirt and dust deposits which in turn hold the living organisms that cause types of spoilage one wishes to avoid. This does not need to alarm you, but cause you to use "hospital-like" cleanliness in all your glassing procedures.

FOR THE MOST NUTRITIOUS PACK, pull the beans early in the morning while the pods are richly green, tender, crisp and preferably free of developed starchy individual beans. Make advance plans, if possible, so that the beans may be glassed within 2 hours after picking. Before breaking wash them in not less than 3 cold water baths. Lift pods up through the water, rubbing them gently between the fingers and always lift all the beans out of the bath before turning water out so as to remove dirt deposits. Remember, bacteria germs and yeast molds live in earth, so remove every particle. After the third washing, if you are satisfied the beans are thoroughly clean, break the ends, string if necessary, break into about 1-inch lengths, leave whole, or cut lengthwise. The 1-inch lengths will allow best circulation of liquid for penetration of heat and complete sterilization. If you were to cut or break beans before washing, dirt particles could easily be flushed into the open places, then cause spoilage.

DROP ONLY THE QUANTITY OF BEANS INTO one or two small litters of boiling water, enough to cover, which you will go into your processor AT ONE TIME. Simmer for 5 minutes or until color is vivid and pods bend easily without breaking. Move work table close to range and ladle boiling hot beans with liquid into hot jars. Pack loosely to within 1/2-inch of jar top. When jar is half filled add 1 teaspoon of salt to each quart. Never glass beans in half-gallon jars, as it is difficult to get the center beans sterilized without overcooking the outside ones. Weep jar rim with clean wet cloth. Adjust cap and seal for processing according to jar cap manufacturer's directions. Place each jar in canner as soon as it is sealed and do not count time until pressure has been reached or water has come to a rolling boil over all jars. Remember that beans packed into hot jars, sealed, then allowed to stand at room temperature before processing will quickly develop flat-sour.

Pressure Canner Boiling Water
10 Pounds Bath
Process Snap, String, Wax Pts. 35 Mins. 3 Hours or Kentucky Wonder Beans, Qts. 40 Mins. 3 1/2 Hours

WHEN PROCESSING TIME IS UP, remove jars and complete seal, if necessary. Cool jars on rack, cloth or newspaper away from drafts. At end of 12 hours cooling, test for leaks and remove screw bands if 2-piece closures are used. Weep jars with clean damp cloth, place where they can be easily observed for 8 to 10 days.

IF YOU SHOULD DETECT SPOILAGE, remove cover, correct trouble, and reprocess for one-third to one-half original time.

PLAN ALWAYS TO BOIL BEANS 15 MINUTES in open pan before testing or serving. Those times when you plan to use them in a salad, boil for 15 minutes, then chill quickly.

CHEMICAL NITROGEN PROVISION RELAXED

Because of improved supplies, coupled with the need to increase production of livestock feed, the War Food Administration says that the use of chemical nitrogen will be permitted on 1943 fall-sown grain for harvest, the Virginia USDA War Board announced.

WFA officials in charge of fertilizer supply programs estimate that the quantity of chemical nitrogen which will be available to agriculture during the fertilizer year beginning July 1, 1943, will be about 15 per cent larger than the record amount used in 1941. It is expected that farmers will obtain most of their requirements for essential 1943 food and feed crops. Farmers may apply to their regular dealers for the fertilizer in quantities to cover their usual rate of application on the acreage they expect to plant.

ASSURES NEEDED SUPPLY

The program was drafted, says the war board, to assure production and canning of sufficient tomatoes, green peas, sweet corn and snap beans in 1943 for the armed forces, lend-lease and civilians, and provide growers a market for these vegetables at prices which will average not less than established support prices. It also affords processors a satisfactory arrangement under which they may contract with growers. Commodity Credit Corporation offers a contract to processors to purchase the raw vegetables and then sell them back to the processors at designated prices. Although a processor accepts the offer a contract with CCC does not result until the state war board certifies that he processor has contracted with growers for the plant capacity.

Following, in the order given, are the per ton Virginia prices at which CCC will purchase the raw vegetables from processors, and the prices at which they will be resold to processors: tomatoes $72 and $73, green peas $98.50 and $97, sweet corn $10 and $14.50, snap beans $90 and $75.50.

CONTRACTS ARE PLACED FOR PROCESSED CROPS

Virginia processors who have contracted with growers for 2500 acres of tomatoes, 2832 acres of peas, 1700 acres of lima beans, 300 acres of snap beans and 225 acres of corn had been certified by the state USDA war board as of June 15. These figures exceed by the 1942 acreages contracted by the processors involved. Additional applications from processors have been received and will be acted upon immediately.

When Man's Best Friend Goes Off to War

BETWEEN 1900 and 2000 dogs are being donated by the American public to Uncle Sam, each month, for use in the armed services of the nation. With many families, especially for the children, this represents a real personal sacrifice as their contribution to the war effort.

Often, there are tearful farewells as the railway expressman calls to take the prospective "K-9" candidate to one of the forty mobilization centers of Dogs for Defense, official procurement agency, for examination and induction.

Not every dog passes the test which require that it be at least 50 pounds in weight, 20 inches in shoulder height, in perfect physical condition, aggressive in spirit and free from gun-shyness.

After acceptance, the animals are placed in official "U. S. Army Dog" crates and turned over to Railway Express Agency for transportation to a selected U. S. Quartermaster dog training center, the largest of which are at Front Royal, Va.; Fort Robinson, Neb.; Camp Rimini, Helena, Mont.; and at San Carlos, Calif.

Uncle Sam has urgent need for many more good dogs as standbys and protectors of our soldiers on sentry duty and at places where enemy sharpshooters are about. If your dog has the necessary qualifications, the Government wants him!

U. S. O. Has Branch of Largest Free Library

Victory Book Campaign
Collects More Than 10,000
Volumes

Friday Evening Musical
Suspended for Summer

Frequently overlooked by the casual observer, among the mass activities taking place in the local USO Club, are the two rooms devoted to one thousand odd books. It is part of the largest circulating library in the world, operating under rules which include no library card and no "fines" and in which those who withdraw books seldom bring them back.

More than ten thousand volumes were collected last year by the Victory Book Campaign, a cooperative enterprise of the American Library Association, the American Red Cross and USO. So far in 1943 an additional 5,700,000 volumes have been collected. These were distributed as fast as they were stored. This library, it was recently estimated, is as large as the libraries of five major cities in the United States.

All the volumes collected by the Victory Book Campaign are not in the USO "library." Many are distributed overseas by Red Cross. Large quantities are sent to the Army, the Navy and the Merchant Marine.

Books form a large part of the service in more than 1,500 USO clubs and smaller units and in more than 500 other USO recreation centers in larger cities. Busy as men and women in the service may be at their duties they still have time to read. And they have left no doubt that they want books, and more books. This is especially true of service men and women taking long train rides, on leave and furlough, all over the country, some times three or four days and nights at (Continued on page four)

To those who wish to apply for operator's licenses there is to be a change in the day on which application must be made. Beginning next week the bureau will be open on Wednesdays from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. instead of Saturdays. Applications may be had at the Police and Fire Station as previously.

First Drowning of Season

Unidentified Man Falls from Raft and Drowns

About noon, Thursday, July 15, the Virginia Beach Coast Guard Station was notified by a guest of the Pocomantas Hotel that a man had fallen from a rubber float off shore at the foot of 19th St. and had failed to come up. The man had apparently started at the North end of the beach and had been seen diving from the rubber mat, swimming a short distance and getting on the mat again to float down the beach.

The Coast Guard immediately launched the rescue boat and with the aid of the drag net tried to locate the body. However, at the time the News went to press their repeated attempts had been unsuccessful in either recovering the body or ascertaining as to the identity of the man.

Beer Shortage Prevails Here

Many Tavern Operators Are Forced to Close Down

"Sorry, no beer."

This is rapidly becoming a common phrase at local beer-selling restaurants and taverns. The prospect of a "beer famine" in Tidewater Virginia is quickly nearing reality. Many establishments where beer constitutes the largest sales, are finding it necessary to close because of the lack of their most popular commodity. Virginia does not have numerous large breweries as do many other States. Therefore, it has had to depend on importing the favored beverage for distribution in this State. Now, because of a shortage of corn, brewers are finding it difficult to supply their own States, and almost impossible to ship supplies to neighboring ones.

Although there is not an actual shortage of corn, the brewers are not able to buy it at the OPA's ceiling price of $1.05 a bushel so long as the farmers can get a bigger return converting the corn into meat by feeding hogs.

Beer may or may not disappear completely in the Tidewater area, but if it stays, it will probably be all-malt beer and will have a decidedly different tang from "ye old favorite."

YODER DAIRIES DOING GOOD JOB

Cooperative Dairymen Share in Dividends in Princess
Anne County

Started in 1929 Operates on
"Big Family" Basis

From the Farm Credit Messenger, published in Baltimore, Md., comes the following summary of the outstanding activity of one of the Princess Anne county dairies:

How would you like to be one of 28 farmers to share in semi-annual dividends of approximately $20,000?

That's what is paid to the 28 members of the Yoder Dairies in Princess Anne county (Va.) every six months above an average of 38 cents per gallon for 4 per cent milk paid monthly.

These producers get 8 1/2 cents per gallon plus 85 cents per pound of butterfat content, and the dividend every six months runs their net price to 41 cents per gallon.

The Yoder Dairies started in 1929. It became an important distributor in 1937 when the group incorporated. All the members of this cooperative dairy are members of the Amish-Mennonite church.

The church does not sanction the buying and selling idea but subscribes heartily to the cooperative principle. The church does not run the dairy, but the 28 members of the dairy cooperative comprise about half of the families in this Kempsville church.

The members have their directors and the directors name the manager. They have monthly meetings of the board and quarterly meetings of the members. At these meetings, every good practice in farming operation is discussed and its features pointed out.

The Yoder Dairies puts the cooperative idea on a "big family" basis. It is just one of the many cooperatives throughout the Nation doing an outstanding job in a world at war.

RICHARD DICK- SON PROMOTED

Word has been received of the promotion of Captain Richard Dickson, U.S.M.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Petty Dickson of Sea Pines, to Major. Major Dickson is now stationed at the base at Pensacola, Florida.

FERRIS WHEEL VERY POPULAR

New Amusement at Seaside
Surpasses All Others

Frank Shean, manager of Seaside Park, is always eager to please and to co-operate with everyone. Co-ordination with the war effort is primary with him, co-operation with the public comes next. In both cases he is measuring up 100 per cent.

The feature bands which he has brought here for dancing have been an outstanding entertainment all season, but Mr. Shean has added one more noteworthy attraction to Seaside Park. Many amusement features have gone to war along the production line, however by his great determination to secure for the amusement lovers of the Beach the best possible entertainment, he succeeded in getting one of the very few No. 1 Ferris Wheels left on the market. This is the largest model made and for the two weeks in which it has been here it has proven to be the most popular bit of amusement on the Board walk. . . . Why?

Mainly, Mr. Shean's determination to co-operate with black-out rules. All is dark on the Ferris Wheel and its lofty heights enable the occupants to enjoy the breezes from the ocean and really see the moon and stars (when there are any, but who cares?) from a vantage point not enjoyed on terra firma.

Does its popularity now remain a mystery?

LT. MCCLUSKEY GUEST SPEAKER

American Ace Tells Lions
To Buy Bonds and More
Bonds

Standing Committees
Appointed

The regular meeting of the Virginia Beach Lions Club was held Monday evening, July 5, at the Pinewood Hotel. W. W. (Bill) Johnson, the newly elected president, presided. Howard Gibbs, program committee chairman, presented Lieut. Scott McCuskey, as guest speaker. Lieut. McCuskey, American Ace, having recently returned from active duty in the South Pacific, related some of his experiences while in that area. He is a survivor of both the Lexington and Yorktown sinkings. On one occasion, running out of gas and failing to locate his carrier, he was forced down on an unknown island but received only the kindest treatment at the hands of the natives.

Lieutenant McCuskey pointed out the superiority of the Japanese equipment at the outset of the war. However, our intensive war effort had so improved the American equipment that now we hold superiority over the Japs. He urged the purchase of bonds and more bonds in order to maintain this superiority.

New Army Insignia

A new airplane wing insignia has been ordered for all Army planes.

The War Department announced recently the new insignia consists of a white star on a circular field of blue, a white rectangle attached horizontally at both right and left of the circle, and a red border enclosing the entire device.

The department said that the new insignia has developed because the present device can be confused with Japan's red dot and Germany's black cross on a wider white cross.

Kempsville Church to Cel- ebrate 100th Anniversary

Lightning Hits Sanitarium

A bolt of lightning during one of the electric storms of the past week struck the South corner of the Infant Sanitarium. A sizeable hole was made in the slate roof, causing the light and telephone service to be temporarily put out of commission. A quick response to the call of the superintendent brought fire chief, electricians, telephone repairmen and plumbers and within two and one half hours the routine of the Sanitarium was back to normal. Due to the calm manner in which the nursing staff and assistants conducted themselves when the emergency arose, there was no confusion among the 60 occupants of the Sanitarium. Volunteer workers and Nurses Aid supplement the regular staff. Primarily for the benefit of the underprivileged children of Norfolk, Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County, the Sanitarium is rendering still another distinctive service to war working mothers, the wives of enlisted men in this area. When there is room their children are taken to board for a period of two weeks, until a suitable boarding place can be found.

Visiting hours are from 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. each day for those in the community who are not familiar with this most vital work in our midst.

Sugar and Coffee May Leave Ration

President Roosevelt last week held out the prospect that sugar soon may be removed from the ration list, followed later by coffee.

It all depends upon how successfully the Allied anti-submarine campaign goes.

The possibility was set forth in Mr. Roosevelt's message vetoing the congressional ban on subsidies. He said:

"We must not only keep the price of . . . necessities down, but we must increase when we can, the supply which helps relieve the pressure for higher prices and helps reduce the temptations of the black markets."

"With the improvement in the war against the submarine we may even be able soon to remove sugar and possibly later coffee from the ration list."

As Others See It

No Food Is Talk

Theme of a Negro spiritual is that everybody talking about heaven isn't going to get there.

It's the same with the frenzied discussions now going about production of food or the lack of it. Food isn't produced by conversation.

Planning for it is good but it's being overdone.

The pigs are not fed by arguing over the type of feed, when and by whom. Somebody has to take them some corn. Cows have to be actually milked twice a day, in person.

Talking about it for a week will not produce milk. Wheat must be harvested within a very brief, proper time by people going into the field, not sitting on the porches and planning it.

Washington and its planners will never produce food. Chester Davis, Claude Wickard, McNutt and other great fellows can't feed us. They can't even feed themselves.

It's time to grab a plow, a hoe; to plant instead of plan, to harvest instead of hem and haw.

It's time to quit talking in Washington and give working people the go signal—accompanied by some machinery, fertilizer and labor. —Charlotte Observer

Japs Watch The White House

The Japanese still have their eyes on the White House and talk silyly of dictating peace in the home of American Presidents.

Last week Dr. Ryutaro Nagai declared that the departed soul of the late Admiral Yamamoto will not rest until "we have carried the war over his body to American shores and we have won our terms of peace in the very chambers of the White House."

This is bad news for the soul of the departed Admiral. Evidently it will not rest in peace. —Southwest Va. Enterprise.

The WAAC Has Dropped at "A"

And now they are WAC. The President has signed a measure transforming them from an auxiliary unit to the WAC or Women's Army Corps. Each former WAAC must now sign an Army enlistment paper to make them a member of the real army. Because they volunteered for service they are free to refuse enlistment and may get an automatic discharge. So the WAC is now a part of the regular army and subject to all the provisions of the army. The legislation makes it possible to punish them by courtmartial for infractions of army regulations, entitles them to pension benefits, and makes them eligible for benefits under the Allotment and Allowance Act. —Virginia Gazette, Williamsburg, Va.

The WPA, born in the depression, closed their doors after an eventful career the last day of June. Before the Works Projects Administration went out of business they turned back $130,000,000 to the Treasury. The records show, officials said, that the WPA spent approximately $10,500,000,000 and employed 8,500,000 persons since its inception in 1935. The turnover to the Treasury included $105,000,000 in funds and $25,000,000 in supplies and materials. —Virginia Gazette, Williamsburg, Va.

The cost of living in Britain is said to have increased 28 per cent during the past five years and for the same period, average wages have increased 27 per cent. It may be surprising news to Americans to learn that the average pay of the average factory worker is only $22.78 per week, with aircraft workers averaging about $30 per week. —Virginia Gazette, Williamsburg, Va.

Safer During The Summer. Haberdashers announce that small bow ties may become popular again, and this is to be said in their favor, anyway—a whole lot less can happen to them during the juicy blueberry pie and butter-cream season. —George Ryan in the Boston Herald.

The Mayor must be sleeping, as he forgot to proclaim the 4th of July. Maybe that's why the Fourth was so quiet.

BASTILLE DAY

On July 4th we, the people of a free country, celebrated our Independence Day with very little thought as to the meaning of the day, with very little appreciation of our right to pursue our lives in the course of freedom and happiness. A condition which we accept as rightfully ours.

July 14th was "Independence Day" for yet another people. A people with the same right to liberty and freedom, yet a people saddened by the yoke of oppression, smothered and starved of life itself. July 14, 1789 was designated by the people of France as their Independence Day. The day on which the Bastille fell and with its fall came the liberation of patriots who had been unjustly imprisoned. May we not hope today that in the near future the oppressed people of France may be able to celebrate their Independence Day and that they may be able to enjoy the right to live as all God fearing people should live, in peace and happiness and brotherly love. Vive La France.

TO LIQUIDATE OR NOT TO LIQUIDATE

The proposition made to Congress by the Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures for the liquidation of N. Y. A., to curtail Government expenses, seems to have drawn fire from several sources. At least 500 youths of Virginia as well as older men who are serving as faculty members will be affected by the move. All of whom will either seek work in some defense operation or clerical jobs in Washington.

The disagreement starts at the top of the ladder with the House standing on its vote to liquidate and the Senate seeking to extend its life. Representative Flannagan (D of Va.) appealing from its retention and Maj. M. G. Woodruff, Jr., director of the National Youth Administration resident center in this locality charging that "these gentlemen of the Senate and House of Representatives" who voted death for the youth training agency "have no desire to win the war and are playing politics."

It seems to be a question as to who yells loudest when toes are stepped on and pocket books are touched. The tax payers of Virginia or individuals directly affected by the proposed abandonment.

MUST AND MUST NOT

We are all familiar with the phrase "the have and the have-not nations." It was one of those semi-truths that are the best stock in trade of the pseudo statesman. That it was an effective weapon has been proven. Before the bombs fell at Pearl Harbor, sympathy for the "have-nots" and friendliness toward the self-styled underdogs did much to bedevil the real issue and to leave us woefully unprepared for the attack of those whom we had pitied.

Now there is another theory abroad in the land. It is that of the "musts and the must-nots." Instead of being a divisive theory, however, this is a closely coordinated and coordinated expression of thought which may be translated into positive action.

TEAMWORK THE AXIS CANNOT BEAT

Teamwork isn't new to American industry but probably never before has it been developed to such high degree among all kinds of manufacturing companies, large and small, now united in a common goal.

"Subcontracting has played a major role in the 'miracle of production' which has confounded Axis prophets and upset Axis time-tables," says C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors, which currently is turning out war materials for the armed forces at a rate of more than $10,000,000 a day. "It was in good part the application of industry's time-tested technique of teamwork to the job of arming the nation that enabled us to change over from civilian manufacture and hit our full stride of war production in an unbelievably short time."

Citing a recent survey of his own company as an example, Mr. Wilson discloses that almost 19,000 different subcontractors and supplier are working with General Motors on its war job. The output of these "partners in production" has enabled GM to stretch its facilities and technical experience, Mr. Wilson reports, just twice as far as would otherwise have been possible. Half of the production effort on the average that goes into the planes and tanks and guns that this company furnishes the armed forces is provided by these 18,735 firms—some of them large, many of them small.

A special survey of organizations furnishing General Motors with parts for war production discloses that 74 per cent are small firms employing fewer than 500 persons. Of these small firms 58 per cent employ fewer than 100 persons.

There are several reasons, quite aside from its value to the war effort, not only for the interest of General Motors but for the best interests of all of us in encouraging the widespread use of subcontracting, as General Motors has done over the years in peacetime. As Mr. Wilson points out:

First of all, subcontracting reduces to a minimum the expansion of facilities beyond the point where they will be needed for postwar manufacture. In the second place, it helps to ease manpower shortages. And, finally, it helps to insure the survival of those smaller companies which are the backbone of the American economic system.

There's teamwork the Axis never can beat.

PEACE CAN BE MADE TO WORK

Out of all the talk in recent months on the subject of the post-war world, the most comforting statement comes from a man whose business is research and the invention and improvement of things mechanical. Charles F. Kettering, with his practical view as a successful inventor, says:

"I think the future can be almost anything we want it to be. If we take into consideration the factors we have to build the future with—people, things, climate and everything else—then we can go ahead and do a swell job."

Today, more than ever, we need statesmen who can take a tip from the research wizard and apply the scientific process to post-war problems by starting with a careful inventory of all the factors that have to be considered in arranging the world of the future. In any case, it is reassuring to hear from the man who has made so many new things work that the peace can be made to work also.

CONGRESS AND THE NEW DEAL

There are broad differences of opinion among public men on the question of government subsidies. New Deal philosophers have upheld subsidies ever since they gained control of the Government in 1933. The other day Senator Tydings, Democrat of Maryland, backed-up Senator Danaher, Republican of Connecticut, in denying the Commodity Credit Corporation's authority to use any of its funds for the roll-back. The Tydings amendment opposed the roll-back ban to every government agency, and the Senate adopted it by a vote of 26 to 38. Tydings had told the Senate: "If you go to bed now with the subsidy issue, you're going to have a shotgun wedding and have to stay with it."

There has been an earnest attempt in both Houses of Congress to compromise with New Deal plans about subsidies and price roll-backs. Congress doesn't seem to be afraid of the cars these days, but it recognizes the fact that it has a very narrow margin of strength to meet possible vetoes from the White House. In a way that gives the President the whip hand.

We must put first things first. We must devote all our energies to the one task of winning the war, that we may return to the ordered ways of peace. We must not be sidetracked from this goal by personal ambition, group interests or individual bias.

We must save in all things—in money, time, material resources, and health—that we may be fit to assume our full obligation as citizens. We must not squander anything but our spirit of friendliness and cooperation with our fellowmen.

We must keep still. Some day try listening to the conversations around you—on trains, on buses, in restaurants—and you won't have to be told why. We talk too much. We must not be a carrier for the enemy. Talking out of turn, passing on rumors, spreading tales which can cause dissension, fear or panic among the unthinking, serve the foe.

We must be alert and ready minded to adjust our way of life, our manner of thinking to the needs of the moment, to make do or to put to fullest use our dormant powers of resourcefulness. We must not be set in our ways, determined to stay out of the game unless we can make the rules.

We must put democracy into practice. We must shun any attempt to divide our people. This does not mean agreeing on all points, but it does mean disagreeing as individuals rather than as a group. We must not be led astray into the fallacies of segregation by religion, nationality or race, that have made a funeral pyre of Europe again and again throughout the centuries.

We must think in broad terms. We must see our nation as part of the family of nations, our responsibility as one and the same with the responsibilities of men and women of good will the world over. We must realize that we are our brother's keeper.

SAFETY MEASURES FOR THE HOME

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of ten articles on Home Nursing prepared by the Public Information Service of the American Red Cross. For complete details about the standard course, inquire of your local Red Cross chapter.

These are days in which many strangers are becoming our neighbors. Yesterday's village is today's boom town. The clean open field has become a trailer camp. Farm laborers are here one day and there tomorrow. With this constant shift and change of population, new problems in sanitation present themselves to the homemaker. The simplest measures of precaution must not be neglected.

Water must be safe not only for drinking but for brushing the teeth, cleaning uncooked food, and washing dishes. If taken from sources in which contamination by drainage from the surface or underground is likely, it should be boiled three minutes. Freezing does not kill all bacteria. Ice cut from ponds and rivers may carry disease germs; therefore it should not be used in drinking water.

On farms, or in small communities where there is inadequate supervision of milk production and delivery, boiling will assure safe milk for babies and small children. Boil for three minutes and cool quickly. Migrant workers or others with poor kitchen facilities can use dried or canned milk more safely than the natural in many instances.

Meats, meat broth, fish, and food prepared with milk and eggs are very susceptible to bacterial growth. After cooking, they should be cooled quickly, kept at a low temperature, and used promptly. "Summer complaint" may be the result of improperly prepared or poorly refrigerated food. Since flies are known to carry disease germs, protect all food by keeping it covered. Don't throw away water with food particles in it on the open ground where it will attract flies. Eliminate breeding places for flies by keeping garbage covered and disposing of it as soon as possible. If an outdoor privy is used, it should be screened against flies, and seat covers should be provided and used continuously. Keep your house well screened. See that all screens are fit snugly and that holes are carefully mended. (The fourth in the series, entitled "Is It Only a Cold?" will appear next week.)

stark drama, a preachment against lynching. The acting is superior and very tense moments add to the excitement of the story.

There will be a double feature at the Roland Theater Friday and Saturday, the 16th and 17th. Edmund Lowe and Marguerite Chapman will star in "MURDER IN TIMES SQUARE." This is a mystery story but with only mild thrills. The acting is very smooth and entertainment is good. The double feature will be Charles Starrett in "BLAZING SIX SHOOTERS."

Sunday and Monday, "CAT PEOPLE" will be the attraction. Simone Simon, Kent Smith, Tom Conway and Jane Randolph are in the title roles. This is a clever mixture of drama, romance and horror with each ingredient served in copious portions to make spell-binding, blood-tingling entertainment.

The week will end with a double feature. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, John Howard and Helen Gilbert in "ISLE OF MISSING MEN." Also "BILLY THE KID RENEGADE."

Theater Prevues

A real family picture will be the opening feature for the Bayne Theater on Friday and Saturday, July 16th and 17th. "THIS LAND IS MINE," starring Charles Laughton, Maureen O'Hara, George Sanders and Una O'Connor. The story is laid in a small town, somewhere in Europe, a weak and timid schoolmaster watches the effect of despotism upon his fellow citizens and slowly begins to acquire courage. Finally, willing to sacrifice his life for the common cause, he emerges as the town's greatest hero. A well presented picture that has plenty of entertainment for the entire family.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Dorothy Lamour, Bob Hope, Edward Cianelli and Marian Martin will be co-starred in "THEY'VE GOT ME COVERED." The cast should be enough to sell the picture to any comedy loving audience.

A thrill and a laugh a minute is supplied by Samuel Goldwyn's "They Got Me Covered," hilarious spy comedy starring Bob Hope as a crackpot reporter and Dorothy Lamour as a news bureau employee whom he loves.

The side-splitting action follows a riotous course through two murders, a sensational kidnapping and a grand finale in the show-rooms of a fashionable beauty salon, where Hope is trapped by enemy saboteurs. The supporting cast in this RKO Radio release includes such popular players as Otto Preminger, Edward Cianelli, Marion Martin, Donald Meek and Lenore Aubert. David Butler directed.

"THE OX-BOW INCIDENT," starring Henry Fonda, Mary Beth Hughes, Dana Andrews and Henry Morgan, will come to the Bayne Theater Wednesday and Thursday. This is a picture of "The World of the Four Freedoms," by Sumner Welles. 121 pp. New York: Columbia University Press. $1.75.

In this brief book the American public is given an illuminating and heartening review of our foreign policy from September, 1939, to March, 1943. The Under Secretary of State discusses thoughtfully and convincingly, in twelve addresses, problems that will necessarily confront us in the postwar period and stresses the need for coordinated and intelligently constructive planning on the part of the people and the government now while the struggle for victory is in progress.

Mr. Welles mentions as matters to be dealt with: demobilization, lightening of government controls, conversions of industries, food and materials for the relief of devastated countries, international arrangements about currencies, free access of raw materials, and a sound trade policy. He reviews and evaluates for the future certain grave errors in our foreign policy of the recent past, in particular our disastrous tariff policy and our failure to participate in the League of Nations. The author reiterates his own unshakable belief in the ultimate triumph of the ideals which men have cherished throughout the course of history, quoting in the words of Woodrow Wilson the supreme objective of a suffering humanity: "A universal dominion of right by such a concert of free peoples as shall bring peace and safety to all nations and make the world itself free." Through vision and a willingness to sacrifice, he says, men can and will attain an enduring peace and achieve the world of the four freedoms—"freedom of speech and of religion from want and from fear."

Since the Under Secretary of State has been largely occupied with the development of a coordination with our neighbors in this hemisphere, he very properly devotes considerable space to this phase of our foreign policy. "When peace is restored, it is to the interest of the whole world

Don't Let Motors Run Idle

Excellent Way to waste Gasoline

From the Office of War Information comes the following for gas users in this area where we are feeling the acute shortage of gasoline.

Bus and truck drivers in the Northeastern gasoline shortage area which includes Virginia, have been urged by the Office of Defense Transportation not to waste fuel by letting their motors idle unnecessarily.

If bus and truck drivers were able to save only one gallon out of every 1,000 used along the Atlantic seaboard, the amount saved in a six-day work-week would be equivalent to the amount required for:

- Fuel 15 Liberator bombers during three trips from a British base to Berlin and back;
- Keep a mechanized division for five hours;
- Keep 50 fighter planes in the air 17 hours.

DARDEN SPOKE TO EDUCATORS

Entrance Age Lowered—Minimum Insurance

At the last meeting of the State Board of Education it was voted to change the minimum age of admission to the public schools, allowing children to enter in September who will become 6 prior to October 1st., thereby shaving a month off the present minimum. In addition to this the Board amplified the resolution passed by it last March requiring localities to carry insurance on their school buses as a prerequisite to sharing in State aid for school bus operators. This amplification sets the minimum insurance provisions as follows: $5,000 liability for injury to one person, $50,000 for the bus itself and $5,000 for property damage.

The meeting of the Board brought to a close a week given over largely to educational matters begun by the conference of superintendents called on Wednesday. At this time the State educators heard Governor Darden outline his plans for education saying "emphasis should be placed upon elementary and high school instruction rather than upon higher education." "In my opinion," he said, "we ought to give the high school student a basic training that will fit that student for the responsibilities of life."

EAT, DRINK AND SMOKE APPLES

They, Too, Have Gone to War

First you ate your apple; then you learned to drink it; and now, you can smoke it.

No firm is more happy because of this third process than the Berks-Lehigh Cooperative Fruit Growers, at Boyertown, Penna. For them, bushels of elder type apples were turned into thousands of dollars that otherwise would never have been converted into income for the growers.

The apples you smoke come in the form of apple syrup. It was developed two years ago as a possible backstop for the shortage in sugar. It was discussed last year as a moistening replacement in cigarettes and five tobacco companies decided to make it their moistening agent.

This spring the WPB banned the industry's use of glycerine, its chief moistening agent in cigarettes, and now the importance of apple syrup may be measured by the development of five syrup companies in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Oregon and Washington and plans for three more before fall.

But apples from the Berks-Lehigh orchards were the first to go into apple syrup and take the place of glycerine in cigarettes.

Samuel Weissfeld of the Barlin Laboratories in Philadelphia, built a 2,000 gallon wooden trailer tank and sent it to the Berks-Lehigh plant. Each night, this tank was pulled to Philadelphia, unloaded and returned to the plant before morning.

The 1942 crop yielded only some 2 million pounds of syrup against total industry demands of 30 million pounds for the glycerine substitute. An anticipated 10 million pounds is the 1943 crop mark with hopes of this being increased.

A pack of cigarettes uses about one ounce of tobacco. Each gallon of apple juice boils down to about a pound of apple syrup.

Two pounds of syrup are used to moisten 100 pounds of tobacco. One cigarette needs only one-thousandth of an ounce of apple syrup as a moistening agent.

So the nitrates of glycerine can go to war for explosives. Apples will take their place as a moistening agent. The hydroscopic qualities of both are the same.

And at least one apple cooperative not only has overcome the shortage of cans for its apple juice but also is serving an important war need.

A Horse on Them

Each of two screwball cavalry rookies was given a horse.

"How are going to tell them apart?" asked one.

"I'll cut off my horse's mane," suggested the second. So they trimmed one horse's mane but it grew out again. The first screwball then cropped his horse's tail but it, too, soon grew out.

"Let's measure the horses," suggested the first screwball. Sure enough it worked. The white horse was two inches taller than the black horse.—Fe Magazine.

back to camp and finish it. If he remembers to return it, all right. Should a buddy want to read it he may pass the book along to him. If, in turn, the book does not find its way back to the library, that is alright, too. The books are meant to be read and not just as decoration for a library shelf.

The same thing happens at 116 servicemen's lounges in bus and railroad stations throughout the country. A soldier or sailor gets immersed in a volume while waiting for a train, or perhaps he wants to take along a book or two he hasn't started. In both cases he is welcome to the books. All he is asked to do is drop them at the next lounge or USO club he visits.

Men serving with coast artillery batteries and air observation units at remote and lonely outposts along the Atlantic and Pacific shores are not forgotten, either. USO mobile units, visiting these units about once a week, always bring a supply of books.

Books for the "library" are also sent to 105 USO Clubs located at bases strung along this hemisphere from Alaska to Brazil.

Should your library shelves have books which have served their usefulness in your own home pass them along to the USO library. Some person in our armed forces here at home may get the same enjoyment from it which you did. This is just one other way in which we may keep up our real service along the "Home Front."

Two Receive Service Pins
The musical program carried on at the USO club through the fall and winter by Mrs. David Barnum and Mrs. Edna Thompson has been suspended for the summer. For many months these two ladies have traveled miles from the north end of the beach each Friday evening to carry on individual programs on the club's roster. Mrs. Barnum and Mrs. Thompson have led the weekly service men's chorus which brought out the individuality and talent of many a shy service man.

In announcing the temporary suspension of the program, Mr. Kelly, director of the club, presented the ladies with USO gold service pins and expressed his hope of the resumption of the program in the fall.

"I'M ON UNCLE'S TEAM, TOO!"

IN WAR ANY WASTE IS A CRIME! DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE NO RATION COUPONS ARE REQUIRED!

FOLKS, here in America, we've always known that it takes teamwork to win—on a football field, on an assembly line, or in one of those big American bombers that fly so far and hit so hard.

Well, I'm on the team, too, and plenty proud of it. Ready and eager to do every big and little thing within my power to help win this war and win it quickly.

But I have to be in a lot of places, and do a lot of things at one time those days. ... I know all I need do is ask and you'll help.

Maybe you didn't know it, but I'm doing almost three times as much work as I had to do ten years ago. In April, 1933, Vepco delivered thirty-seven million of us to serve you. In April,

1943, one hundred and four million of us were on the job. (And just incidentally, my hourly wage for work in your home is one-third less than in 1933, despite the well-known increase in the cost of living!)

The extra load I'm carrying goes into war effort in thousands of ways that might never occur to you. One war effort. So I know you'll help me do my job on the team by not asking me to do any unnecessary work. Don't waste my energies. Uncle Sam needs every ounce ... and we won't let him down!

Town and Farm In Wartime

FUEL AVAILABLE FOR COMBINES

A procedure has been worked out between the USDA and the OPA whereby itinerant combine operators may obtain motor fuel and tires to operate their trucks, tractors and combines, says the state war board. Before starting on a circuit the operator should apply to his county farm transportation committee for motor fuel, and to his local war rationing board if tires are required.

"It is necessary that gasoline rations issued to farmers be adequate but not excessive," says the war board.

PRICE TO FARMERS SHOULD NOT CHANGE

Since USDA price supports will remain in effect, prices paid to dairy farmers should not be changed by the "roll back" in retail butter prices ordered for June 10 by the OPA, says the state war board. Commitments made by USDA last December to support wholesale prices of butter at levels equivalent to 46 cents per pound at Chicago will be carried through at least until June 30, 1944, and afterward at least 90 per cent of parity until two years after the end of the war.

The "roll back" will be accompanied by a five cent per pound subsidy paid by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to creameries making 1,000 pounds per month or more of butter that comes within the legal definition of that commodity. Farmers generally will not be eligible for the subsidy but those who produce 1,000 pounds or more butter in any month will be eligible for the subsidy on all butter produced that month.

GOOD ADVICE

Note to Victory gardeners: A continued light skirmish with the weeds every few days is better than an all-out battle every few weeks.

HAYFEVER SPECIAL

Experimental plantings of four selected strains of goldenrod totaling 650 acres were completed this spring by the USDA as a part of the 1943 emergency rubber program, says the state war board.

MORE STORAGE CANS

The need for kerosene and gasoline storage cans on farms and in homes will be relieved to some extent, says the state war board. Production had been previously banned by WPB but set up to 50 per cent of the base period has been authorized.

A vacation is a rest, and your own back yard offers an excellent chance for complete relaxation. In wartime, unnecessary travel handicaps important military activities. This year, spend your vacation at home or within the recreational facilities close at hand.

State Gas Regulation Lacking in Equity and Justice

Darden Requests Relaxation of Restrictions

No Uniformity in Penalties Imposed

Termining the gasoline rationing regulations now applied to Virginia as "lacking in equity and justice, and in urgent need of correction," Governor Darden last week forwarded to Petroleum Administrator Jesse a plea for careful rechecking of the situation and a relaxation of the restrictions as now applied to Virginia, certainly limiting the restrictions "to those imposed on our neighbors to the North and South of us."

"Independent checks made of existing stores of gasoline in the State, and of current gasoline consumption by civilian traffic," Governor Darden wrote Mr. Jakes, "have convinced me that it is no longer necessary to continue the present stringent regulations on pleasure driving."

"Our State boundary for about a thousand miles is touched by states whose citizens enjoy a much more liberal allowance of gasoline than we do. These states are both to the North and South of us, and Virginia gasoline users think the more liberal privileges accorded North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia, should be granted them. Their position is, in my opinion, well taken."

"O.P.A. restrictions and enforcement vary, but our people are being subjected to the harshest penalties of which I have heard. While there has been excellent cooperation on the part of the State and local officials and the public, our citizens are greatly aroused over what they believe to be unnecessary restrictions on gasoline, and they question the necessity for the severe punishments now being imposed. That there is no uniformity in the penalties imposed has aggravated the situation."

"Our present stock of gasoline," the Governor continued, "is good for from 15 to 25 days demand. This is not as much as in pre war times when shipments came to us by ocean-going tankers, but ample to warrant more generous treatment than is now being accorded the citizens of the Commonwealth."

"I am sure you will agree," wrote the Governor, "that all Americans are in this war to the same degree. Only by treating all alike can we preserve equality of sacrifice and equality of opportunity. Only in this way can our people be made to feel that they are being treated fairly. We realize that the military situation may demand more curtailment, more severe rationing and more sacrifice, and when that time comes, we are quite ready to do our full part."

In closing, the Governor said, "This request is being made because I deem the present situation to be lacking in equity and justice."

BODY OF CLERK FLOATS ASHORE

James Stephen Singleton Drowning Victim Last Week

A body which washed ashore at the foot of Twenty-ninth street in Virginia Beach early Sunday was identified as that of James Stephen Singleton, 34-year-old hotel clerk, who was reported drowned in the ocean off Nineteenth street last Thursday about noon.

The body was taken from the H. D. Oliver Funeral Apartments, 1501 Colonial avenue in Norfolk, via the Norfolk & Western Railway to Lynchburg, where funeral services and burial took place Monday afternoon.

Companions who had been on the beach with Singleton shortly before he drowned, said he was some distance offshore on an inflated rubber mattress when a large wave washed him off. By the time they reached the mattress, Singleton had disappeared, they said.

The victim, a native of Lynchburg, was employed as a desk clerk at the Fitzgibbon Hotel, Virginia Beach. He had been employed at various times in hotels in Norfolk, Virginia Beach and Richmond, and was a member of the Hotel Operators Association. He was the husband of Mrs. Elizabeth Powell Singleton and a son of Mrs. Nettie Cleland Singleton, of Richmond, and the late Thomas J. Singleton, of Lynchburg.

Besides his wife and mother, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. M. Fleming of West Orange, N. J.; a brother, Thomas Singleton of Richmond; and two aunts, Mrs. Mary S. Payne and Mrs. W. P. Glover of Virginia Beach.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY OUT

Virginia Beach's new telephone directory has just been delivered to more than 3,700 subscribers in this area, according to a statement made by W. W. Stroud, manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia, here.

The cooperation of telephone users in not making unnecessary calls to "Information" will result in improvements in service and will help to conserve scarce and critical materials. Make certain the number you want is not in your telephone directory before calling "Information." More than half of the calls now received by "Information" are for numbers which could be found in the directory.

Because of the many new telephone numbers since the last directory was released, Mr. Stroud emphasized the importance of consulting this new directory before calling. It is also suggested that subscribers review their personal telephone number lists with those in the directory in the event these lists may contain numbers which have been changed. These suggestions are in line with reaffirming the importance of keeping telephone lists open for important war calls.

On party lines it is very important, particularly these days, to be a good telephone neighbor. A good telephone neighbor makes calls as brief as possible, avoids calling many numbers in succession, answers the telephone promptly, and hangs up the receiver carefully. If everyone cooperates, then all will receive good party-line service.

Rev. Lines To Occupy Pulpit Sunday

The Rev. Stiles Lines, rector of Gallie Episcopal church, has returned to his home at the Trafalton-Chalfonte Hotel after an absence of two weeks. He will occupy his pulpit on Sunday, July 25th. Rev. Lines has been attending a conference of clergy at Kanuga, Hendersonville, N. C.

The United States produced more than 10 billion rounds of small arms ammunition last year.

HURST HEAD OF BEACH PATROL

To Fill Vacancy Made By Resignation of Hugh Lynn Cayce

At a meeting of the Town Council last week Pat Hurst was appointed to fill the vacancy made by the induction into the armed forces of Hugh Lynn Cayce. For a number of years Mr. Cayce ably filled the position of head of the Virginia Beach Recreation Department and Captain of the Beach Patrol. In assuming his new responsibilities, it is our understanding that Mr. Hurst intends to conduct an intensive "clean-up" campaign. Enlisting the co-operation of all cottages and hotels along the ocean front in an effort to remove all trash from the beach, such as bottles, papers, cans and other refuse either put there by bathers or washed ashore with the tide. There is a definite need for such action and with little effort upon the part of each individual the campaign can be made a success.

F.W.A. Funds to be Requested
The council also voted to request funds from the Federal War Administration to supplement town funds for the purpose of increasing the inadequate water supply for the town. The funds necessary for this improvement will approximate 1-2 million dollars.

U.S.O. EXPANDS MOBILE UNIT

A fifty per cent expansion in USO mobile services and maneuver services in the United States was announced today by Edward J. Kelly, director of the USO Club at 18th & Arctic Ave.

Mr. Kelly was notified by Carlene E. Cameron, director of the USO Mobile and Maneuvers service division that, additional USO "clubhouse-on-wheels" had been placed in operation to bring more frequent service to soldiers and sailors on duty at remote outposts and to provide recreation service in less locations requested by the War and Navy Dept. Some of the new units have been assigned to an expanded service in the maneuver areas in Louisiana, Tennessee and in the California desert. Many are already in operation in nearby sections of Virginia.

Most of the new units are light, short wheeled trucks with powerful motors designed to pull through sand and mud and over the rough terrain near the outposts and on maneuvers. Included in the equipment carried by each is a 110 volt gasoline generator, motion picture projector and amplifier, a stock of current Hollywood motion pictures, a large shelf of books, writing materials, candy, games and refreshments. Some of the units carry sports equipment for basketball and other outdoor games which can be played when men are off duty.

"Most soldiers and sailors on maneuvers or on remote outpost duty in the United States have been able to see the motion pictures brought to them by our units," Mr. Cameron explained. "Without these movies and the games and other diversions which are part of the USO mobile service program, they would have no diversion for days on end. Many of the men on 24 hour a day alert and even when they are but a few miles from a small town or city, they cannot leave their posts to go to these communities. When they cannot get to a regular USO Club, we bring a mobile USO Club to them."

ADEQUATE CORNAGE FOR HARVESTING

The War Food Administration has announced to the state war board that farmers can expect reasonable supplies of hay rope, binder twine and other cordage for harvesting 1943 crops. Substitute materials are being largely used in manufacture and more careful handling is required.

As Others See It

Farm Workers Too Patriotic

The patriotism of Virginia farm workers is actually causing the shortage of help on farms of the Old Dominion according to a recent report by the State Extension Service.

Reluctance of agriculture workers to apply for draft deferments as essential farm workers in Virginia because they will be criticized for not being in the army services is blamed for the scarcity of harvest hands this season.

—Crew Chronicle

"Why, Sir?"

This is a true story. Once upon a time an advertising agent approached a United States Senator who is now a prominent government official. He suggested to the Senator that a certain piece of legislation might be deferred until a study then being made by the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration could be available. He thought that the economic facts thereby turned up might be useful in further consideration of the measure.

"Why, sir?" sputtered the Senator, mad as could be, "do you think for one minute that Harvard University knows more about economics than does the United States Senate?"

—Primers' Ink

Father of the Fly Swatter

Benjamin F. Douglass, former St. Louisian, who is dead at the age of 89 at his home in Fulton, Mo., is described as the man who invented the fly swatter. In 1900, when flies were excessively plentiful, he took a small piece of wire screen, bound its edges with cloth and fixed it to a whittled handle. The result was the "Douglass Fly Killer" and before long men and women were wielding it all over the country.

This invention doesn't rank with the cotton gin or the electric light or the airplane, yet it deserves its line in American history. It gave human beings a device in their own hands with which to turn down that most pestiferous of all nuisances, the common house fly.

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Weeding

Those who this year wield hoe and urge cultivator with virginal enthusiasms are learning with surprise that weeds are a bountiful crop in all gardens. It is, on the whole, a salutary lesson, as well as educational.

At the present moment, there may be disagreement over the technique of weeding. There are two main schools of thought. One holds that the only way is to get down on hands and knees and crawl along the row. The weeder can rest on one hand as the other pulls the unwanted, hush-growing, tenacious plants. The other school contends it is more efficient to rest on one knee and hitch along. This is the semi-vertical position as contrasted with the horizontal. We have respect but no comment for those who bend from the waist. As for the hope, that cannot reach the intruders among the young and tender children of our toil.

Victory gardeners may pay their money and take their choice. Decision is difficult and observation leads to the conclusion that most gardeners change techniques frequently. But the problem must be faced squarely and without equivocation. The choice is weeds or vegetables; there is no middle ground.

—Christian Science Monitor

Richmond, Va. — Many of the State's 35,000 holders of chauffeur's licenses are sending a fee and seeking renewal of their cards in the mistaken belief that the licenses expired on June 30, Motor Vehicle Commissioner C. F. Joyner, Jr. says.

Joyner said that many of them were unmindful of the fact that the June 30 general expiration date was abandoned by the last General Assembly and that the licenses now expire one year from date of issuance.

Applications should be sent to about two weeks before the expiration of the old license, Joyner suggested.

FOR THESE THINGS WE FIGHT

What's all the shooting for? I'll tell you. We are fighting to protect a thousand and one simple riches that add up to the American way of life. They are precious things and we want to keep them. I mean things like quiet white churches where we can go and worship God as we please. I mean things like roaring crowds and ball games, hot dogs, picnics and county fairs. I mean vine-covered cottages and laughing children. I mean trout streams and golf courses, and the family automobile. I mean things that we take for granted until we lose them.

But that isn't all that the shooting's for. There are deeper things. The right to hold up our heads and walk the earth as free men, instead of slaves. To think what we want to think, say what we want to say, and take a crack at being what we want to be. To do what we want to do with our own lives, and to give our children an opportunity to do more than we have done, and to be more than we have been. To work together to abolish poverty and sickness and failure, and make our land even more like heaven than it is now.

And the shooting is for even more than that! Out of the blood and the tears and the sacrifice must come a peace that will bring to all men, the world around, the blessings of freedom. Out of the battles in the air, on the land, and on the sea, we must forge a world brotherhood of nations, founded on justice and dignity and character. —Willard A. Peterson, Editor Silver Lining.

NO MIRACLES AHEAD

The American public is gradually acquiring the idea that when the war ends the nation will be flooded with miraculous new devices as industrialists lure the spending power that has been built up by war conditions.

It is just as well to get rid of the notion. There will be no sudden outburst of dream products. Gradual improvement of many devices will arrive but buyers will not have the opportunity to revolutionize living conditions through startling inventions.

The way some people are talking about post-war miracles one would think that a new electrical store is being prepared that will not only wake up and cook ham and eggs for the family breakfast but that it will have a device that will automatically produce the food.

DETERIORATION OF ROADS

Gasoline rationing has reduced passenger motor car traffic to 35 per cent, but the nation's highways are wearing out more rapidly than ever because motor truck traffic has increased 40 per cent. More and more heavy arm vehicles are using the highways, too.

The Public Roads Administration in Washington is becoming worried because maintenance is slipping. The amount of money spent for this purpose has been reduced and some materials are not available to fill the chasms and mend the crumbling pavement.

Union maintenance is increased, this Federal agency predicts.

that the end of summer will see many of the nation's roads in a deplorable condition. The roads administration says grass planting and sign painting projects along highways can be dispensed with, but that deteriorating surfaces must be repaired if motor vehicles are to keep moving with a minimum of wear on tires.

Supported by growing gasoline tax revenue, expenditures for construction and maintenance of America's state-administered highways had soared to $800,000,000 annually in 1940. Calculation for 1942 have not been completed, but expenditures for that year were far below previous years and they will be lower still this year. —Winchester Evening Star.

THE BOOK OF BOOKS

A new high record was established last year in the sale of Bibles, both at home and abroad, the American Bible Society reports.

Millions of copies of the Book of Books are being carried and read by our fighting men on the far-flung battle fronts that girdle the globe.

The Charlotte Observer suggests that the historic utterance of one of General MacArthur's men, that "there are no atheists in fox holes," may be a key to the climb in Bible sales.

Possibly so. Whatever the cause, there is reason for gratification, if not jubilation, over the circumstance. —Greensboro Record.

THE ANSWER TO OUR HOPE

The recurrence of war should not dash all hope, because there is an answer. Science, however, is not the answer. Science as applied to war merely enables men more skillfully to destroy each other. Science cannot supply the answer. Education in itself is not the answer. Highly educated nations at times have been the most militaristic. Progress and civilization are not the answer, for they do not make men unselfish. Human nature, intoxicated by greed, vengeance, and the quest for power, manufactures the incidents which cause wars. These forces of evil can be overcome only by a superior force of spiritual development that brings justice to all peoples. The answer to our hope is a spirit and desire for victory in this war and a long-lasting peace predicted upon sound Christian and Democratic principles.

Today, we should benefit from our mistakes of the past twenty years. We have allowed ourselves to become soft and compromising, making concessions to wrong when interference with our personal indulgences and pleasures would have been the price to be paid to further the principles of Democracy. Some thought that power and influence were criteria of success; others looked upon wealth as the yardstick. Few, unfortunately, have sought to measure success in terms of Christian service. In the turbulent days that lie ahead, however, success must take on a new meaning. It must be measured in the broad and beneficent terms of unselfish service to mankind. Democracy finds its level in the character of its citizens. The home is the first line of defense of our Democracy. The home, in many ways, is emblematic. In far too many homes reverence of God does not exist. Religion and the Guidance of God are not sufficiently considered.

When the home totters, a nation weakens. Every day it is my task to review the histories of scores who obey only the laws of their own choosing. Always the one thing that stands out is a lack of moral responsibility and any feeling of religious conviction. This is not difficult to understand if we merely read some of the literature of writers who decry religion and argue that distance from God makes for happiness. While we fight for religious freedom, we must also fight the license sought by the atheist and those who ridicule, scoff and belittle others who would seek spiritual strength.

GAS COUPON CHANGED

A new "T" gasoline coupon, which replaces the present "T" coupon, will become valid after July 25. OPA expects the change in design to help take up "slack" mileage and remove potential sources of black market gasoline.

O. P. A. ISSUES WEEKLY RECAP

All Gas Coupons to be Signed Users of gasoline, beginning July 22, will be liable to lose their gasoline ration if each coupon in their possession is not properly endorsed in ink, William Hudgins, chairman of the Princess Anne county War Price and Rationing Board, reminded them this week.

The new policy on coupon endorsements, the chairman said, was taken to assure maximum protection to book holders. Henceforth, motorists will be required to endorse all coupons immediately upon receipt of renewal gasoline ration, so that they will never have unendorsed coupons in their possession.

Endorsement consists of writing in ink on the face of each ration coupon, the license number of the vehicle for which the ration was issued and the state in which the car is registered.

Men on Leave May Secure Certificates

Members of the nation's armed forces who qualify for special food rations on leave or furlough soon may present their applications to any conveniently located War Price and Rationing Board. William Hudgins, chairman of the local board, said this week.

This provision is contained in an amendment to General Ration Order 9, which becomes effective July 24. Formerly service men who received application forms exchangeable for rationed food purchase certificates were required to present them to the ration board serving the area where the person who fed the servicemen resides.

Non-Rationed Shoe Sale

Shoppers probably will find some ration and price bargains in their local shoe stores this week and next as a result of an OPA action permitting retailers of footwear to sell a certain percentage of their stock ration-free when accompanied by a reduction in price. William Hudgins, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board said this week.

Such ration-free sale of shoes has been allowed dealers, the chairman explained, in order to spread odd-lot and broken stocks which, under rationing, might not sell readily. This, Mr. Hudgins said, will prevent the tie up of many pairs of shoes in merchants' stock rooms, which, otherwise could be giving many miles in service. All such sales must be made at specified reductions in prices.

All shoes sold without the collection of ration currency during the period from July 19 through July 31, must be marked "Odd-Lot" at the time of sale, either with ink, indelible stamp or indelible pencil. Any shoes so marked that are returned unused are automatically identified as shoes for which no ration currency may be refunded. After July 31, shoes offered for sale under the "Odd-Lot" Release provision will return to rationing.

HOSPITAL SEEKS CANS OF FOOD FOR CHILDREN

Home canners who are preserving the harvest from their victory gardens to help win the battle on the home front have been asked to remember patients at the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond with a few extra cans of fruits and vegetables.

Housewives of Virginia can aid these unfortunate children in their battle for health by sending part of this season's pack to the Crippled Children's Hospital, 2924 Brook Road, Richmond. Jars will be sent to home canners living in nearby communities and housewives living at greater distances will be reimbursed for the jars they send in.

With indications that the armed services will receive the greater portion of this season's commercial pack and with increased rationing restrictions predicted for the coming winter, charitable institutions will be forced to depend more heavily than ever before upon donations from individual canners to maintain proper diets for their patients, officials of the hospital state.

Appeals for donations of home canned fruits and vegetables have been unusually good in past years and officials of the hospital express the hope that increased yields from victory gardens will enable Virginia housewives to help supply health-giving foods to these crippled children.

COM. REVENUE STANDS ON 12 YEAR RECORD

Offers Following Letter From State Tax Commissioner

"My Dear Mr. Sparrow: In response to your request for a statement from me as to your work as Commissioner of the Revenue for the county of Princess Anne, I am writing to say that your record for the delivery of your tax assessment books and reports to the Department of Taxation is excellent. The books and reports so delivered have been well and neatly preserved. "The foregoing is not written to influence any vote in any campaign, but being a statement of fact, it is a certification to which you are entitled. "Very truly yours, "C. H. Morrisette, "State Tax Comm."

Mr. Sparrow quotes the following figures as to increases in assessment, etc., during his tenure in office:

Increase in land assessments (12 years), $1,742,706; loss in land assessments, approximately $1,500,000 (lands taken over by the government); personal property increase in 12 years, $405,782; increase in bonds over previous year, $57,608; money increases over previous year, $302,276; capital increase, $33,172; increase in state revenues over previous year, $18,998.

He further claims the distinction of his office issuing more state licenses than any other county in the state of Virginia, 2,699 licenses.

Letter to Prentiss M. Brown

Following up his letter to Administrator Harold L. Ickes, Governor Darden dispatched a similar communication voicing the "deep-seated resentment against what appears to be unjust discrimination." The text of the Governor's letter is as follows: "It is with hesitancy that I disturb you about a matter which I know is giving you great concern. I do so because the people of Virginia are faced with an almost intolerable situation on account of the limitations that have been imposed upon the use of gasoline, and the severe measures which have been used in the enforcement of the restrictions. "What appears to be well authenticated reports indicate that the supply of gasoline in storage here is such as to warrant the same treatment being granted the citizens of this State as is being accorded the citizens of North Carolina and Tennessee to the South, and Kentucky and West Virginia to the North of us. "There is no disposition here to question any regulation which is necessary for the prosecution of the war, but there is deep-seated resentment against what appears to be unjust discrimination. "You are quoted in the Press as favoring the relaxation of the present rigid rules. I do hope that such is the case, and that some definite decision on this point can be made in the near future. The statement attributed to Mr. Ickes that thirty to sixty days would be required for a thorough study of the situation which obtains on the East Coast gives me great concern. It is difficult for me to see, with the information now available, why prompt action cannot be taken on the request being made by Virginia."

Funerals

Mrs. Lettie Vernon Dalby Jarvis, widow of Fred R. Jarvis, died at Norfolk hospital Sunday at 7:00 o'clock after a long illness. She was a native of Princess Anne County and had been a resident of Norfolk practically all her life. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Marguerite Jarvis Bonney and Mrs. Earl O. Jarvis of Norfolk; five sons, Fred R. Jarvis, Jr., William K. Herbert C. George C. and Milton E. Jarvis, and one brother, Cradey Dalby, all of Norfolk, and nine grandchildren. Mrs. Jarvis was a member of the Christian Temple. The body was removed to the funeral chapel of James V. Derry, 1920 Colley avenue, pending funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Gertrude Travers Bowne, aged 73, widow of Francis Draper Bowne of Flushing, L. I., died Sunday at 9:20 o'clock in Bryn Mawr, near Philadelphia, Pa., after a long illness. She had a number of friends at Virginia Beach. Burial will be in the Flushing, L. I., cemetery. She has made her home at the Beach for the past seven or eight years in Cavalier Shores.

Mrs. Jennie Brownie Hancock died last week in a Norfolk hospital after an illness of seven months. A native of Greenville, N. C., she had made her home in this section 45 years. She was a former resident of Berkeley where she was well known and esteemed, but for the past 10 years had made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Woodhouse at Virginia Beach. She was the widow of the late Capt. William Harrison Hancock. In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Woodhouse, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ella Crisp of Longview, Washington; two grandchildren, Thomas L. Woodhouse, Jr., and William Hancock Woodhouse, and a great-grandchild. She was a member of St. Brigid's Episcopal church of Berkeley. The body was removed to the Graham Funeral Home, Jackson and Jefferson streets. Funeral services were conducted at the grave in Magnolia Cemetery.

is from August 30th to September 1st. All of the sessions will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and the courses include a thorough discussion of school bus driver problems, proper daily maintenance habits, safety driving practices, a consideration of Virginia Traffic Code and State Department of Education regulations and Standards for pupil transportation as they affect the school bus driver.

The program for each Monday morning session will be (1) Introductory remarks by local Division Superintendents of County schools; (2) Presentation and discussion of State and county school bus regulations, by J. Milton Shue and in the afternoon R. L. Wimbush will speak on the care and operation of school buses. Tuesday's program is as follows: Morning, (1) Presentation and discussion of highway laws and regulations, local highway patrolmen, by Milton Shue—illustrative movies pictures. Afternoon, Conservation of tires, batteries and gasoline—R. L. Wimbush. Wednesday morning's session will be the presentation and discussion of safe driving practices, by Mr. Shue, and the afternoon will be given over to discussion of the general maintenance of school bus equipment, led by Mr. Wimbush.

Week End Uneventful

The Virginia Beach Police and Fire Departments had a very quiet week end. There was one fire call resulting from a short circuit in a wire, which did not amount to much and a police pick-up when a stolen car from Norfolk arrived in the restricted area driving 70 miles an hour. However, there will be more excitement, says the chief, if the citizens of the town do not purchase town licenses for their automobiles. The deadline for the purchase of these licenses was supposed to be June 1st but a great many of the local residents have not yet secured them and from now on those found driving without them are putting themselves in a position to be arrested and fined for failing to comply with the town ordinance.

CANNED VEGETABLES AND FRUITS

Nearly 70 per cent of the canned vegetables, and 53 per cent of the canned fruits and juices available in the next 12 months will go to feed civilians. These quantities, allocated by the WPA for the 12 months beginning July 1, constitute about 4 per cent more canned vegetables but about 40 per cent less canned fruit than were consumed on the average during the 1935-39 period.

Theater Prevues

"FLIGHT FOR FREEDOM" will be the opening attraction at the Bayne Theater Friday and Saturday, July 23rd and 24th. Rosalind Russell, Fred MacMurray, Herbert Marshall and Edward G. Robinson are starred in this explosive drama of war, love and reckless adventure among the Japanese sneak strongholds. A girl and a man fly from New York to Philadelphia for an appetizer and to New Orleans for coffee in RKO Radio's "Flight for Freedom," one of the most dramatic love stories ever filmed, starring Rosalind Russell and Fred MacMurray.

The exciting action hinges on the experiences of an ambitious woman filer who sets out to break all existing records and finds herself drafted for a secret mission by the United States Navy. It is a story which could not have been filmed before Pearl Harbor, and includes stirring episodes of the present global war. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Robert Taylor, Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Nolan and George Murphy will be presented in "BA-TAAN," the greatest all-male, all-star cast to appear on the screen in recent years. A thrilling and compelling story of America's last ditch fight for the Philippines after the Pearl Harbor stab in the back. Laid in fox holes and swampy jungles, the story tells of human relationships in the midst of battle, and of a gallant fight to the last man. "PRESENTING LILY MARS," starring Judy Garland, Van Heflin, Fay Bainter, Richard Carlson and music by TOMMY DORSEY and BOB CROSBY will be the attraction for Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Judy sings, Judy dances and Judy romances in this musical treat. Taken from one of America's best sellers by Booth Tarkington, this engaging story deals with a young girl who wants to become a musical comedy star, a producer who cannot see her possibilities, and the various complications that follow when the very resolute young lady sets out to show him the error of his ways. Judy "crashes" a party, insists on acting Shakespeare for the impresario, manages to get his prima donna insanely jealous but finally wins out, takes her place in the spotlight—and wins a husband.

Double features will be on the screen each day at the Roland Theater, beginning Friday, July 23rd, with "SECRETS OF A CO-ED" and "BILL ELLIOTT IN MAN FROM TUMBLEWEED." This will be the bill for Saturday also. Sunday and Monday, Richard Carlson and Jane Randolph will be co-starred in "HIGHWAYS BY NIGHT." Also "CALABOOS" with Jimmy Rogers and Noah Beery, Jr., in the leading roles. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the double features will be "RHYTHM PARADE" and "WOLVES OF THE RANGE."

School Bus Drivers Attend School

The State Department of Education has announced that the Training School for school bus drivers, which was inaugurated during the last session and which has been in operation during the month of June at Warm Springs, Charlotte Court House and Abingdon, will continue at various home centers until September 1st, with R. L. Wimbush and J. Milton Shue in charge. In Norfolk County the schedule

NANSEMOND IS VITAL DEPOT TO DEFENSE

For some time the emphasis on military secrecy has discouraged the publication even of basic information on local installations in which adjacent communities have a special interest. The result has sometimes been that people have had difficulty even in finding Nansemond Ordnance Depot although it has been in existence since 1918 (formerly called Pig Point Ordnance Depot).

From Colonel R. W. Finger, commanding officer of the Nansemond Ordnance Depot comes the following release concerning a very vital branch of our war effort.

The role which the Nansemond Ordnance Depot plays in the mission of Army Ordnance Field Service has been made public by Colonel Roland W. Finger, Commanding Officer, in connection with the distribution by Ordnance Field Service to its depots and armories of the program each observes in maintaining the careful balance and strategic supply of all Ordnance required by fighting forces overseas, and by the Service and Defense Commands in Continental United States.

Dozens of separate duties and functions have been sent out with each depot or arsenal assigned up to a score of continuing or recurring responsibilities. The number and type depend in each case on how the individual establishment fits into the overall picture of Ordnance supply and maintenance.

The mission, which lists the operating activities of Nansemond Ordnance Depot, received by Colonel Finger, is a revision of previous operating instructions, and indicates the vital part Nansemond has in the global war strategy.

Nansemond remains, primarily, an ammunition depot. Its newly received instructions direct that Nansemond, as a transshipment establishment, shall hold and store all classes of ammunition and explosives for the Newport News Port of Embarkation. In addition, it is charged with responsibility for receipt, storage, surveillance and issue of additional stocks of ammunition as directed.

Subsidiary, but nevertheless important, operations include the maintenance and repair of automotive and materials handling equipment used at the depot, subject to limitations of shop facilities.

The missions distributed represent current activities as they have been set up for all of the Field Service establishments, and are based upon the long-range, over-all military requirements of the United States and her fighting Allies.

War shortages may affect the amount of Sealtest Ice Cream we can make, but its quality has not been lowered to stretch the supply. It will always be made of the finest cream, and other ice cream ingredients, available.

And remember, too, that our Sealtest Real Fruit Ices are comparable in quality with Sealtest Ice Cream. They're delicious and refreshing—served alone or in combination with your favorite Sealtest Ice Cream flavors.

PROGRAM TO AVOID CLOTHES RATIONING

A program to make clothes rationing unnecessary, recently announced by Donald M. Nelson, chairman of WPB, contains these six points: (1) increased production, (2) orderly and adequate distribution, (3) more "volume" merchandise, (4) allocation of materials to essential needs, (5) increased imports of burlap, and (6) proper care of clothes by consumers. There is an adequate supply of textiles to meet civilian needs, the WPB has determined.

TO EQUALIZE GASOLINE RATIONS

Equalizing of gasoline rationing throughout the United States east of the Rocky Mountains will be recommended by the Petroleum Administration for War within sixty days. This action, aimed to spread the burden of war equally among the people, will probably result in some decrease in the Middle West and Southwest, according to Petroleum Administrator Ickes. It is not anticipated that there will be enough gasoline for driving which is not necessary.

SO FAR IT'S A DRAW

In the first week of this year the Republicans gave notice through their leader Martin that Congress had started to mature in the "declaration of independence" and Democratic leaders defied the new freshmen. Honors are about even to date.

Army to Operate Warner Hotel for Civilian Personnel of Camp Pendleton

To Take Possession Aug. 1st and Operate for Duration

Present Personnel to Vacate Saturday, July 31st

On Saturday, July 31st, the Hotel Warner will close its doors to transient guests for the duration of the war. The U. S. Army has acquired the building to house the civilian personnel of Camp Pendleton.

For the past five seasons the hotel has been operated under the management of first, Williams and Tatem and then under the direction of Mrs. Fox and Stanley Smith, Jr., purely as a summer hotel.

The present personnel of the hotel will be removed and civilians under the supervision of the army will take over the running until the close of the war when it is expected that the building will be returned to its original owners for operation.

Mr. Roy Deal

Virginia Beach, Va., U. S. A.

Dear Roy,

Just a line to let you know how things are done in other places. Well, over here it isn't run as well as Va. Beach. The black out is much better at the beach. In fact, everything is better at Va. Beach than over here.

But the sun shines all the time, and is very hot indeed. The nights are beautiful with the sky full of stars that you think you can reach up and pull out a handful. And they are winking at you, too. But I still take V. Beach. There is no place like it. Yes, the Mayor has something to be proud of. Who won the elections at home? And how is the Beach making out this summer? I hope you are doing well. Wish you all at the beach a very big year. Russell Wood, London Hillard, Ed Drinkwater and Harrison my brother are all over here. "Tel 'em about Duck's." How is Hilary Roy Barnes?

So long for now.

Sponsored by Red Cross Town of Va. Beach and Hotel Association

Buddy Guy, Senior Life Saver to Be Instructor

Under the sponsorship of the Hotel Association, the American Red Cross and the Town of Virginia Beach, classes are to be conducted in Water Safety and Life Saving each Monday, Wednesday and Thursday, from 6:00 to 7:00 p. m. at the foot of 24th Street. The classes will continue until the course is completed and are given for the benefit of the boys who are employed on the beach. Buddy Guy, qualified under the Red Cross to be a Life Saver, is giving his services as instructor.

MANY SCHOOLS NOT TO OPEN

Teacher Shortage in Rural Sections a Real Problem

Washington, D. C. — Thousands of schools will not open their doors this Fall. Most of them are located in the open country and villages of the nation. During the last school year in an effort to prevent schools from closing before the end of the term, school authorities issued 38,736 emergency certificates. These were given to men and women willing to undertake teaching but who lacked the qualifications required for normal certification.

More than a million children in the schools of the nation, according to the National Education Association, will sit in classrooms over which these only partially qualified teachers preside during the coming year. About one-half million of these children will attend rural schools. More unfortunately still, according to the national professional organization of teachers, an estimated 400,000 children in 25,000 classrooms will have no teachers at all, or will attend school in greatly abbreviated terms next year.

The teacher shortage, while confined largely to those areas of the United States classified by the Census Bureau as rural, is not restricted to any geographical area. Reports from all states are discouragingly similar.

Teachers are being lost to their school systems for a variety of reasons, some of which operate in peace time as well as in wartime. Out of every 100 teachers who quit their positions last year 24 left because of marriage; 33 out of each 100 entered another teaching job. Twelve per cent of the teachers who left their positions entered war industries or government jobs. A substantial percentage of the remaining 30 percent entered the armed forces or the auxiliary services.

The teachers who are leaving the profession for war industries and government positions are doing so almost entirely because of the higher salaries paid in factory and office. While the average pay of teachers throughout the nation as a whole is about $1,500 a year, 40 out of every 100 teachers in the United States are getting less than $100 a month. About 66,000 are paid less than $600 a year and 10,000 get less than $300 a year.

Charwomen in government buildings in the nation's capital are paid $1,200 a year. Untrained clerical workers on federal jobs receive $1,440 a year, while the minimum professional government salary is $2,000. Recent action of Congress increased the pay of government workers in order to enable them to meet living costs which have risen throughout the Nation about 25 per cent since the war began. Teachers' salaries in the meantime have increased only 8 per cent.

Molly Pitcher Tag Day, Aug. 4

The modern Molly Pitcher will greet you throughout the nation on August 4th when brigades of Mollys will tag every buyer of War Bonds and Stamps. They will carry on the tradition of the Revolutionary War heroine who has gone down in history because she aided her fighters at the battle of Monmouth in 1778.

MOLLY PITCHER DAY THROUGH- OUT NATION TAG BOND BUYERS

Washington, D. C., July 30 — On August 4th, Molly Pitcher steps out of the pages of American history to serve as leading lady in a nation-wide Bond and Stamp Tag Day.

The gal who carried water to thirsty soldiers during the blistering Revolutionary battle of Monmouth (New Jersey), and took over her husband's cannon when he was wounded, has long been a symbol of the heroism of American women.

In her honor, brigades of modern Molly Pitchers will take their stands in many communities on Molly Pitcher Tag Day, at street corners, building entrances, and in public places to sell the Bonds and Stamps that back up our fighting men.

In her honor, brigades of modern Molly Pitchers will take their stands in many communities on Molly Pitcher Tag Day, at street corners, building entrances, and in public places to sell the Bonds and Stamps that back up our fighting men.

To turn back the history pages, "Molly" was born Mary Ludwig, on a farm near Trenton, New Jersey, in 1754. She was married to John Hays about the time of the Revolution, and moved to Carlisle, Pa.

In Revolutionary days it was not unusual for wives to accompany their soldier husbands to battle. They washed, mended, cooked and cared for the wounded. So Molly went to war with John.

During the Battle at Monmouth Court House, she carried water to the men, all day and into the night. The men calling "Molly Pitcher" gave her the name by which she is known to history.

On one of her trips from the well, Molly saw her husband fall at his cannon. She promptly took his place, and fired shot after shot until the battle was won.

For her heroism Molly Pitcher was made the first woman Sergeant in the Army by General Washington. In words of an old Revolutionary rhyme:

"Moll Pitcher she stood by her gun And rammed the charges home, sir; And thus on Monmouth's bloody field A sergeant did become, sir."

That is the spirit we should exemplify today by our purchase of Bonds and Stamps. Virginia Beach will have no solicitors on the street corners this Nationwide Bond and Stamp Tag Day but this community has measured up to every call and the purchase of an extra Bond or Stamp from the local bank or post office will show a willingness to perpetuate the heroic spirit of Molly Pitcher.

Primary Election to Be Held August 3rd

Clerk of Court and Commissioner of Revenue Only County Offices to be Contested

On Tuesday, August 3rd, the Democratic Primary in Princess Anne County will be held with the following judges presiding at the poles in the various precincts: C. T. Moore, chairman of the Electoral Board of Princess Anne County, filed in the Clerk's office only the names of the judges. An effort to secure the names of the clerks selected by the electoral board was unsuccessful.

Kempville Precinct — S. O. Denny, Linwood Wright, Jesse L. Hargrove.

Glen Rock Precinct — H. W. Turner, Thomas R. Lee, T. J. Pierce.

East Ocean View Precinct — R. A. Harless, G. W. Yarus, W. E. Allmond.

Bayside Precinct — E. J. Davis, C. C. Hudgins, J. B. Maddrey.

Courthouse Precinct — Willard White, L. H. Hill, D. Jonathan Vaughn.

Sigma Precinct — J. J. White, O. S. Chaplain, E. M. Bishop.

Brooks Bridge — Henry Dyer, Rodney Malbon, Edwin V. Smith.

London Bridge Precinct — John H. James, R. B. Carter, H. C. Gimbort.

Virginia Beach Precinct — C. E. Hoback, T. E. Gresham, B. F. Holland.

Cape Henry Precinct — A. W. Willett, J. B. Ackiss, E. H. Whitehurst.

Capps Shop Precinct — D. L. Whitehurst, Elliott Williamson, Russell Lane.

Creeks Precinct — L. A. Williams, Earnest Corpore, E. W. Nossay.

Blackwater Precinct — L. E. Gilbert, A. F. Wood, J. B. Ives.

The campaign got under way with the following candidates filing for the office of Commissioner of Revenue: John Sparrow, incumbent, opposed by Russell Hatchett, treasurer of the Town of Virginia Beach and Kenneth Cruser. However, when it developed that Mr. Cruser was declared ineligible to run, due to the fact that there was no record of his poll taxes having paid, though Mr. Cruser claims his check to the treasurer was mailed on November 23rd, in full payment of real estate, personal property and poll taxes, that W. B. Shelton, who had previously qualified for the office of Clerk of Court, decided to switch his candidacy to that of Commissioner of Revenue.

For the office of Clerk of Court, William Hudgins, incumbent, is opposed by J. F. (Jack) Woodhouse, who threw his hat in the ring when W. B. Shelton decided to run for Commissioner of Revenue. This office, Mr. Woodhouse formerly held for 16 years as well as serving a term of 8 years as Deputy Clerk. Mr. Woodhouse claims that during the years of 1925 and 1926 while he was in office, there were more deeds recorded and a larger volume of work reported than any years in the history of the court and that during this time he paid an excess tax to both state and county.

Mr. Shelton, acting under the impression that all necessary papers had been filed, was unaware that his declaration of candidacy had not been filed until advised of same by the Democratic executive committee, therefore this disqualified him for the office which he was seeking.

As to the candidates for State Senate we are in the dark. Notice of the candidacy of Parker F. Norfolk, of Onley, Virginia, was carried in these columns on May 21st, but other than that we have no inkling as to whether Mr. Norfolk is still in the race or has any opposition, and as far as we can learn he has not shown his face in Princess Anne County during the campaign. No doubt he has

BEN WAHRMAN IN THE PACIFIC

Formerly with the News Now War Correspondent with the Marines

Sgt. Ben Wahrman, at one time writer for the Virginia Beach News, has achieved additional honors by having one of his articles published in Esquire. Before entering the U. S. Marine Corps, Wahrman was sports writer for the Richmond News Leader. Prior to that he wrote for the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch, the Virginia Beach News, Washington Post and Richmond Times Dispatch.

Sgt. Wahrman is somewhere south of south. He enlisted in the Marine Corps shortly after Christmas and received his boot training at Parris Island. After attending an indoctrination school in Washington he was turned out a sergeant in the Corps of Combat Correspondence, a new organization in the Marines. Given his equipment, which consisted of a lightweight typewriter and a fast-firing carbine he was shipped out from a west coast port for parts unknown.

Meanwhile, Esquire has published an article in the July issue, which Wahrman sold them before entering the service. Although this is the first place to appear in the slicks those who know him feel that it is being exposed as a combat correspondent, that it will by no means be the last.

Ben's wife, Mrs. Rosa Wahrman and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Wahrman, reside in Norfolk.

Equipped for use as ambulances. Dr. Todd's personnel of 331 have taken either the 20-hour or advanced Red Cross first aid courses and some have studied home nursing. The Princess Anne organization acknowledges its debt to John J. Howard, State Director of Air Raid Precautions, for his unfailing help and advice, particularly in straightening out the many intricacies and difficulties that constantly arise in the enforcement of the nightly dimout.

COUNCIL CON- VENE AUGUST 9

Due to Elections Meeting Postponed for a Week

Due to the election on Tuesday, August 3rd, the regular meeting of the Town Council will be postponed from Monday, August 2nd to the following Monday, August 9th, as announced by Russell Hatchett, clerk of the Council.

Princess Anne County Has Outstanding Rural Organization

Civilian Defense News Praises Work of Unit

Among the many outstanding rural Civilian Defense organizations in Virginia, that of Princess Anne County takes high rank. As a component part of a "target area" Princess Anne has encountered many problems in effective organization, but has met and overcome them in a manner to excite admiration.

The county covers about 244 square miles along the Atlantic seaboard at the entrance to Chesapeake Bay and is immediately adjacent to Norfolk and Hampton Roads. Numerous military and naval installations are within its boundaries. It has about 20,000 residents, besides a considerable floating population.

The Princess Anne County Defense Council got underway in March 1942, with Floyd T. Deary as Director and Coordinator. The organization grew to the point where it demanded more of Mr. Deary's time than he was able to give and on April 1 of this year Daniel B. Sullivan was appointed Coordinator to take over the load. Mr. Sullivan has given his full time to civilian defense since its organization in Princess Anne, serving as Controller since April 18, 1942. As Coordinator he has the service of a secretary. All other work of the office is done by part-time volunteers.

At this time Princess Anne has 260 air raid wardens, 94 auxiliary police and six trained bomb reconnaissance agents. Sixty-one of the auxiliary police have been sworn in as special county officers with power to arrest.

Several of the ten zones in which the county has been divided have erected or converted buildings to be used as emergency first aid rooms and hospitals, and also to house fire and other CD equipment.

Notably, Rev. John A. Beckett, Negro supervisor for the county, has sponsored the construction of a cinder block building at Seacock to contain fire headquarters, first aid room and a meeting place for wardens and other Civilian Defense personnel of this county. Rev. Beckett has also set up first aid classes and has stimulated the purchase of war bonds and stamps by the Negroes of the county.

The county Control Center, under the direction of Daniel B. Sullivan, has been in operation since April 16, 1942, and is manned 24 hours a day. The air raid wardens and auxiliary police have been instructed in first aid, the control of traffic during alerts and blackouts and the enforcement of the nightly dimout in effect in the county.

The auxiliary firemen have had a course of instruction from the Virginia Beach fire department. The bomb reconnaissance agents attended the school conducted by the Army in Norfolk last summer. Louis L. Dillon, Senior Gas Officer, attended the gas school in Richmond and a number of men attended the later school in Norfolk. Fire guards are being recruited and trained in each zone.

Major M. L. Todd, Medical Corps, U. S. Army, retired, is Chief of Emergency Service and has a very complete setup, with ten first aid stations equipped and manned at strategic points throughout the county. He also has five large houses, offered by their owners for use as emergency hospitals. A supply of anti-tetanus serum is stored in different places so that one bomb could not destroy the whole supply. There is an adequate quantity of medical supplies, instruments, bandages, stretchers, cots, etc., and six station wagons are

THE MAN WITHOUT A UNIFORM

It is high time that something be done to lift the moral of our boys of today who, through physical defect, great or small, are classified "4 F." It is not enough that they are rejected by the examining board but when they appear in public in civilian clothes, particularly in this area so infested with uniforms, (many of whom partake of our hospitality and the free use of our clubs), there are some who have been known to remark in passing, and in NO undertone, "Draft-dodger." "4 F." "Are you buying bonds to help your country win this war?" and other such slurring remarks directed at the unfortunate who is already crushed with disappointment and humiliation at being rejected and unable to be of active service to his country.

To add insult to injury, if the "4 F" elects to return to college where service activities hold sway, again he is "outside." The classes are for the benefit of the men in service, if the civilian can use those subjects, all well and good. The restaurants and cafeterias are run for the military personnel, the fraternity houses, in many instances, are housing the military. Just what is to keep these boys from becoming bitter? These boys on whom, of necessity, a great responsibility must rest as our future citizens. It takes a lot of fortitude and fight for the "4 F" to keep his chin up and meet his problem with a will and determination to carry on in a world so completely military minded.

So when you meet one of these boys on the street just stop before passing judgment and realize that the heart and the will under that civilian garb is just as anxious to serve his country as the man who wears a uniform, but fate has decreed otherwise.

THE COLORS OF FREEDOM

It is indeed providential that America was not settled or developed or defended by people of one race or one religion. If it had been we never could have proved, as we are proving, that under the democratic form of government men who are of different race and religion can unite and build a strong and enlightened nation. But we are proving it to ourselves and to the world.

This is the source of very great encouragement right now when everyone knows that the future of the world depends upon the ability of men who are different in race and religion to get along together. America is proof that they can if they adopt the principles which we have embraced—the principle of the equality of all men as creatures of the same God, endowed with the same rights, and possessing reason which sets man apart from and above all other created things; the principle that men, because of what they are by the creative act of God, are deserving of the kind of government which derives its "just powers from the consent of the governed," and which guarantees "liberty and justice for all."

Every bit of this is reminiscent of our pledge to the American flag which is flying in all parts of the world now as a universal symbol of liberation. Wherever men see our flag they understand that the great and common interest of America is mankind's welfare. We are concerned that wherever men are they shall be safe in the exercise of their fundamental freedoms—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from fear, and freedom from want. The American flag, wherever it is flying today, is representing America as a country whose people believe that. Our interest is world-wide because the things we stand for are universal. Americanism is certainly for export. It cannot help but be since what we believe in is what everyone wants.

It was probably with this thought in mind that Stephen Vincent Benet wrote his beautiful prayer for freedom, part of which reads like this:

"God of the free, we pledge our hearts and lives today to the cause of all free mankind. Grant us victory over the tyrants who would enslave all free men and nations. . . . Yet most of all grant us brotherhood, not only for this day but for all our years—a brotherhood not of words but of acts and deeds. . . . If our brothers are oppressed, then we are oppressed. If they hunger, we hunger. If their freedom is taken away our freedom is not secure. Grant us a common faith that man shall know bread and peace—that he shall know justice and righteousness, freedom and security, an equal opportunity and an equal chance to do his best, not only in our land, but throughout the world. And in that faith let us march toward the clean world our hands can make. Amen."

THE WOUNDED DON'T HATE

By Ruth Taylor

A newspaper man brought that line back from the battlefield. It was "news" in his eyes for it had come as a surprise to him that those who had been hurt most, hated least—that those men, wounded unto death, had risen above hatred of those who had struck them down.

He went further. And he found that where the hand of war had been most heavily felt, there was less bitterness, less desire for revenge than where war had not touched.

He could have learned it from the refugees. Those who lost most, talked least and hated least. Those who got out safely with some possessions and found only their accustomed way of life disrupted were the most angry.

So it always is. Those who suffer, learn from suffering. They see what the act of cruelty does to the cruel. They know the warping of spirit injustice vents upon the unjust. They sense the erosion of soul intolerance sets festering in the intolerant. They have learned that hatred is a boomerang and that he who hates lives only as the hated.

"The wounded don't hate." They who have brushed wings with death have learned the truth; that life can only be saved by willingness to live and die in a good cause; that no man liveth unto himself, or for himself; that giving does not impoverish; that humility and mercy are more important than ambition and pride; and that righteous indignation can be devoid of personal hatred.

"The wounded don't hate." This does not mean a withdrawal from the battle but a resistance to any weakening of the spirit through those dagger thrusts of prejudice and resentment which disable the hardest soul.

"The wounded don't hate." Not only on the battlefields must this be true, but here in the midst of the tragedies in the battle lines at home. Can we who are safe at home have less self-control than our boys overseas? Can we hate our neighbors at home or abroad? We can and must do so. We can and must determine to wipe out the cruelty and oppression for all times—but we must not becloud the issue with the red mist of personal hatreds. "The wounded don't hate."—And we must not.

BYRD OF VIRGINIA

Senator Byrd of Virginia continues to demand greater economy and lower appropriations for non military purposes. The Senate has sided with him against the attacks of the President. So at the present date Byrd is being supported by Democrats and Republicans. Senator Byrd was a far better Governor of Virginia than the Governor of New York at the time F. D. R. was the Governor of that State.

The death of a Nazi chieftain in Holland was attributed to a "fatal accident." How easily it could have been from "natural causes."

O. C. D. News of Interest

Service Bars For CD Workers Approved

Service bars for Civilian Defense workers with 500 or more hours of service to their credit have been authorized by the government and may be awarded by local Defense Councils within their discretion. Six distinctive bars have been authorized, ranging from 500 to 5,000 hours of service.

The award is a woven ribbon bar, in size 1-2 x 1 1/4 inches, suitable to be worn on the lapel or above the left breast pocket. The basic OCD insignia—the red letters CD on a white triangle super-imposed on a blue circle—appears on a white background with verticle stripes on both sides of the insignia.

Important Amendments To Executive Order 91

The age at which children may be used as Civilian Defense messengers during an air raid has been lowered from 16 years to 15 years by an amendment to Governor Darden's executive order No. 91, dated May 18.

Article 45, Section 9 of this executive order has also been revised to make it a violation of law to spread false rumors concerning test air raids and practice periods.

Priority On Batteries For CD Workers

Priority ratings for flashlight batteries and bulbs used by Citizens Defense Corps personnel may now be obtained. State Coordinator J. H. Wyse has notified all local Defense Councils.

Priority applications, to be made on Form PB-1-a, must be funneled through and approved by the local Defense Councils. The Councils have been urged to make their orders in quantities.

What'll it be at your home this winter . . . a cold shoulder or a warm heart?

Settle that question NOW. Order and store your full supply of coal NOW — and insure a warm home, warm hearts and your family's health this winter. Put it off and the odds are you will run into trouble when the snow flies. Here's why.

America's smashing offensives are demanding more and more weapons and materials of war. War production will increase. The demand for coal will increase, for coal is essential to production for war. The coal must be moved to war plants, when and where it is needed. Railroad facilities for handling it must be available; tracks must be kept clear for coal, and all other steadily mounting war traffic.

Coal is available, now. The railroads can haul it, now. Your coal dealer can take care of your orders, now. He wants to be sure that you get all the coal you need. But he has many problems — shortage of labor, equipment, gasoline and tires. Cooperate with him — place your order, without delay, so that he can fill his yard now, make deliveries during the summer months, and safeguard you against a shortage of coal when winter comes.

The Norfolk and Western Railway serves one of the greatest bituminous coal fields in the world. One of the N. & W.'s most vital wartime jobs is to move the coal from mines along its line. This coal has rolled — approximately 54 million tons during 1942 — nearly one-tenth of all the bituminous coal produced in the United States. It must continue to roll — for Victory.

You can help to keep it rolling — and help to speed Victory — by ordering your full winter's supply of coal, today.

U. S. O. NEWS

Photography Courses At Beach USO

Camera fiends and hypo-happy dark-room addicts in Uncle Sam's forces will soon have a chance to brush up on their formulas and perfect their photographic technique at the Virginia Beach USO. The lectures started Tuesday, July 27, and for eighteen weeks, on each Tuesday evening at 8:30, Samuel L. Pidgeon, of Boise Studio and former lecturer of Photography at Butler University, will conduct a series of lectures and question periods on photography as well as actual practice in the local USO dark-room.

The lectures, while planned for the servicemen's Camera Club, formed some time ago at the USO, will be open to all comers, and will include in the audience junior hostesses interested in photography. Mr. Pidgeon has informed Mr. Kelly, director of the club, that the course, though it will eventually treat portraiture (Mr. Pidgeon's specialty at Boise Studio) will begin with elementary ideas, of interest to beginners and skilled photographers alike.

New Handball Court And Bath Houses

Work has started on the much needed bath houses for the guests of the U.S.O. Club. The 300 which have been available all season are most inadequate. Sufficient space is being built to take care of 150 women bathers and 300 men. In addition to this improvement, a handball court is being built, with an addition to the main building.

Theater Prevues

"PRESENTING LILY MARS" will continue at the Bayne Theatre Friday and Saturday, July 30th and 31st. Judy Garland and Van Heflin are co-starred in this romantic musical, taken from one of America's best sellers by Booth Tarkington.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, a story which will give top entertainment to the entire family will be the attraction. Randolph Scott, Pat O'Brien, Barton MacLane and Anne Shirley will share honors in "BOMBARDIER." This is a thrilling story taken from real life. It is about the development of the bombardier school, the training of its cadets, and their part in the war. There's a dramatic love story of rivalry between two Army Pilot buddies, both in love with the same girl. But love is subordinated to the drama of life and death combat.

"CONEY ISLAND" will be on the screen on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Betty Grable, George Montgomery, Cesar Romero and Ph. Silvers are cast in the title roles. This picture in technicolor is termed "The greatest show on earth! A gargantuan musical spectacle of lyrics and laughter! Blaring with the razzle-dazzle tempo of a joy-mad era—when love flames to the torrid beat of a torchy melody!"

Friday and Saturday the Roland Theater will present a double feature, "IT'S A GREAT LIFE WITH BLONDIE," starring Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake, and also Charles Starrett in "FRONTIER FURY."

Sunday and Monday, John Sutton and Annabelle will be co-starred in "TONIGHT WE RAID CALLAIS."

"LADY FROM CHUNGKING" will follow on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Anna May Wong and Harold Huber will be starred in this picture which is a well presented message about our Chinese Allies and their great courage. In the plot the daughter of a wealthy house of China works as a G.I. in the fields under Japanese domination in order to direct a guerrilla band. She sacrifices herself entertaining a Japanese General, to get information about troop movements and though she is shot, her plans are successful and the Japanese troop train destroyed and the General killed.

The wedding will take place this week.

Miss Payne made her debut several seasons ago at a ball given by the Norfolk German Club, and is a member of the Junior League.

A. B. C. BOARD HAS HEARING

Cases Go to Richmond for Final Decision

Assistant Attorney General O. Stanley Clark of the State A.B.C. Board conducted a hearing in the Town Hall of Virginia Beach last week on violations of A.B.C. rules and regulations as reported against individuals and places by inspectors. The evidence in question was brought against Sherwood Inn and Surf Grill of Virginia Beach and Tunnell's Cafe, London Bridge, and Sundown Grill on the Water Works road. The testimony as presented will be turned over to the State Board for their decision in the matter of revocation of license.

O. P. A. ISSUES WEEKLY RE-CAP

"If you have not filed an application form for War Ration Book No. 3 you can apply between August 2-10," said William Hudgins, chairman of the War Price and Rationing Board of Princess Anne county. "The board, whose offices are located at Princess Anne, has received a supply of application forms and is prepared to give assistance to those who have not yet filed these forms."

Mr. Hudgins pointed out that the local Princess Anne county board will not issue these books but that applications must be made to the Virginia War Ration Book Center which is located in Richmond, where they will be serviced and mailed to the applicant.

The Princess Anne county board chairman also pointed out that if you have made application and have not received the War Ration Book No. 3 that you should not file another application. After August 1, you can inquire about your book by writing to the Virginia War Ration Book Center, 17 N. 7th St., Richmond, Va. Advise them the number on your application blank stub which you retained.

Mr. Hudgins pointed out that it is not necessary after you have received War Ration Book No. 3 to bring it to the local board for the validation stamp. Recipients of this book must fill in the information which has been left blank on the front of the book.

COMMUNITY CANNERY OPENS AT OCEANA

Princess Anne County is just completing a community cannery at Oceana. A room in the Vocational Agriculture Building has been remodeled by the County Board of Education. The equipment has been furnished by the State and Federal Government in connection with classes in food production and food conservation. noon. Each person is to can his nery will be the cost of the tin cans which may be purchased at the cannery. Tomatoes, pears, peaches and apples can be canned in glass jars if preferred.

Opening Date August 2

The cannery will open for patrons from 8:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. No food should be brought in later than 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. The only cost for using the cannery food under the supervision of a trained staff who will be on hand to assist in teaching the various operations. The food may be prepared for the cans at home or at the cannery. Mrs. Margaret Hankins, Home Economics teacher, and S. B. Myers, Vocational Agriculture teacher, will supervise the cannery. These two will be assisted by Mrs. Paul White and Kelly White.

The cannery has a daily capacity of over 1,000 cans. The Government and School Board expect the county people to use these facilities to have a well filled pantry by fall.

The cannery will begin operation visited some of the political leaders of the county and left it up to them to do the rest, or perhaps it makes no difference about the Princess Anne vote so long as the two Eastern Shore counties fall in line.

Thus the slate for local office stands as follows:

For Treasurer—Sidney Kellam is unopposed.

Commonwealth Attorney—Paul Ackiss, unopposed.

Sheriff—Guy Salmons, unopposed.

Commissioner of Revenue—John Sparrow and Russell Hatchett.

Clerk of Court—William Hudgins and Jack Woodhouse.

What started out to be a lively fight has quieted down considerably with each candidate making a personal canvass rather than a campaign of public meetings. Two meetings were held, one at Ocean View and the other at East Ocean View. Gas rationing was, no doubt, a big factor in the curtailment of campaign activities. According to O.P.A. ruling, however, one may drive to the polls to vote.

Two days per week, every Monday and Friday. If more days are needed, they will be put on the schedule.

Many Schools

cont. In many places there has been no increase at all.

Steps taken to check the teacher shortage include: (1) Increase of teachers' salaries. This has been accomplished by increased taxation in some communities and by larger appropriations from the state treasury in others, or by both measures; (2) An appeal to ex-teachers to return to the profession for the duration; (3) The maintenance of teacher training institutions of "refresher" courses to aid former teachers to bring their professional knowledge up to date; (4) Removal of the ban on married teachers which is still in effect in many school systems; (5) An appeal to teachers to remain in the profession if they are financially able to meet the cost of living at the salary paid; (6) A drive to increase enrollment in the teacher training institutions, which has for some months been rapidly declining; (7) The passage of a bill now before Congress—S. 637 in the Senate and H.R. 3640 in the House of Representatives—to provide federal assistance to schools direct to state departments of education without any government supervision or control. This measure would make available $200,000,000 with which to increase teachers' salaries and $100,000,000 to equalize educational opportunity in states and communities where the schools as a whole are substandard because of the absence of local resources which will permit adequate support.
